OFFICE OF THE COMPILER, MYSORE GAZETTE.

NOTICE.

1. The Mysore Gazette is published at Bangalore every Thursday. Matter for publication in the Gazette is often sent late to the Press. This involves considerable inconvenience to the Press and expense to Government. All matter intended for publication in Parts II, III, IV, V and VI should therefore reach this office not later than Tuesday noon, and that for Part I not later than the forenoon of Wednesday, for the following Thursday's issue of the Gazette.

2. Spare copies of notifications, etc., are often asked for long after their publication, when the matter has been broken up, necessitating its resetting and thereby causing inconvenience to the Press and waste of money. When spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, should be made at foot of such manuscript. If spare copies exceeding 100 in number are required, the department concerned should supply the required quantity of paper.

3. Matter sent for insertion in the Gazette will be published only once.

4. Applications for the supply of the Gazette on Public Service should be made to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Mysore.

5. The English or the Kanarese portion of the Mysore Gazette, consisting of Parts I, II, III and V only, will be supplied to the Members of the Representative Assembly during their tenure of office as such Members, Shanbhogs, Patels, Nad Patels and Shekdars within the State at half rates on production of a certificate from the Amildar of the taluk to the effect that such applicant is bona fide on duty at the time. Such subscribers will please note that the Gazette cannot be had in separate Parts at concession rates. Those who pay Rs. 2 per annum will have Parts I, II, III and V only and those who require the other Parts will have to pay the full subscription fixed for the Part or Parts wanted; but those who pay Rs. 4 will get the entire copy of the Gazette.

6. As Government Treasuries in Mysore are authorized to receive and credit Gazette subscriptions as well as publication charges remitted by Courts or private parties, all such moneys should be sent to Treasuries and only Treasury receipts forwarded to this office. No money orders or cash will be received by the undersigned except from parties outside the State.

7. Much inconvenience is caused to this office by subscribers omitting to give their full and correct addresses and writing illegibly on the money order coupons. They are requested to insert invariably the name of the Post Office to which their copy should be sent.

8. Communications on post cards or on paper less than quarter sheet of foolscap, will not receive attention; and no communication should be sent on Government Service by private parties.

9. An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatch of Gazette copies forwarded through post. Duplicates cannot be supplied in any case of non-delivery.

10. Complaints regarding non-receipt of the Gazette should be forwarded to the undersigned within a week after the date on which it is due.

Though the fares for sea-journeys throughout the world are now very high, the Government have arranged that the price of a return ticket to and from the Hedjaz, shall be only Rs. 125, which is no higher than pre-war rates.

The Government is also arranging that pilgrims shall obtain their passports in their own districts from the District and Sub-Divisional Officers and from Political Officers in Indian States.

During the war it was difficult to make journeys by sea, but now that the enemies of the King-Emperor have been conquered, every effort is being made by the Government to provide facilities for the pilgrimage and to ensure the comfort of the pilgrims.

OFFICE OF THE COMPILER, MYSORE GAZETTE.

NOTICE.

1. The Mysore Gazette is published at Bangalore every Thursday. Matter for publication in the Gazette is often sent late to the Press. This involves considerable inconvenience to the Press and expense to Government. All matter intended for publication in Parts II, III, IV, V and VI should therefore reach this office not later than Tuesday noon, and that for Part I not later than the forenoon of Wednesday, for the following Thursday's issue of the Gazette.

2. Spare copies of notifications, etc., are often asked for long after their publication, when the matter has been broken up, necessitating its resetting and thereby causing inconvenience to the Press and waste of money. When spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, should be made at foot of such manuscript. If spare copies exceeding 100 in number are required, the department concerned should supply the required quantity of paper.

3. Matter sent for insertion in the Gazette will be published only once.

4. Applications for the supply of the Gazette on Public Service should be made to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Mysore.

Those who pay Rs. 2 per annum will have Parts I, II, III and V only and those who require the other Parts will have to pay the full subscription fixed for the Part or Parts wanted; but those who pay Rs. 4 will get the entire copy of the Gazette.

6. As Government Treasuries in Mysore are authorized to receive and credit Gazette subscriptions as well as publication charges remitted by Courts or private parties, all such moneys should be sent to Treasuries and only Treasury receipts forwarded to this office. No money orders or cash will be received by the undersigned except from parties outside the State.

7. Much inconvenience is caused to this office by subscribers omitting to give their full and correct addresses and writing illegibly on the money order coupons. They are requested to insert invariably the name of the Post Office to which their copy should be sent.

8. Communications on post cards or on paper less than quarter sheet of foolscap, will not receive attention; and no communication should be sent on Government Service by private parties.

9. An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatch of Gazette copies forwarded through post. Duplicates cannot be supplied in any case of non-delivery.

OFFICE OF THE COMPILER, MYSORE GAZETTE.

NOTICE.

1. The Mysore Gazette is published at Bangalore every Thursday. Matter for publication in the Gazette is often sent late to the Press. When spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, should be made at foot of such manuscript. If spare copies exceeding 100 in number are required, the department concerned should supply the required quantity of paper.

As Government Treasuries in Mysore are authorized to receive and credit Gazette subscriptions as well as publication charges remitted by Courts or private parties, all such moneys should be sent to Treasuries and only Treasury receipts forwarded to this office. No money orders or cash will be received by the undersigned except from parties outside the State.

8. Communications on post cards or on paper less than quarter sheet of foolscap, will not receive attention; and no communication should be sent on Government Service by private parties.

9. An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatch of Gazette copies forwarded through post. Duplicates cannot be supplied in any case of non-delivery.

PILGRIMAGE TO THE HEDJAZ.

This year there will be many ships sailing to the Hedjaz. The approximate dates of their sailing, and the places from which they will sail, will be as follows :—

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 15th | June | from Bombay. | 30th | July | from Karachi. |

| 30th | do | do | 10th | do | Karachi. |
| 5th | July | from do | 10th | do | Bombay. |
| 20th | do | do | | | |

Those who live in the north-western parts of India, including the western parts of the United Provinces and Sind, are advised to take ship from Karachi, where the climate is good and dry, and where arrangements for the accommodation of pilgrims have been made.

Though the fares for sea-journeys throughout the world are now very high, the Government have arranged that the price of a return ticket to and from the Hedjaz, shall be only Rs. 125, which is no higher than pre-war rates.

The Government is also arranging that pilgrims shall obtain their passports in their own districts from the District and Sub-Divisional Officers and from Political Officers in Indian States.

During the war it was difficult to make journeys by sea, but now that the enemies of the King-Emperor have been conquered, every effort is being made by the Government to provide facilities for the pilgrimage and to ensure the comfort of the pilgrims.

2. Spare copies of notifications, etc., are often asked for long after their publication, when the matter has been broken up, necessitating its resetting and thereby causing inconvenience to the Press and waste of money. When spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, should be made at foot of such manuscript. If spare copies exceeding 100 in number are required, the department concerned should supply the required quantity of paper.

3. Matter sent for insertion in the Gazette will be published only once.

4. Applications for the supply of the Gazette on Public Service should be made to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Mysore.

5. Those who pay Rs. 2 per annum will have Parts I, II, III and V only and those who require the other Parts will have to pay the full subscription fixed for the Part or Parts wanted; but those who pay Rs. 4 will get the entire copy of the Gazette.

6. As Government Treasuries in Mysore are authorized to receive and credit Gazette subscriptions as well as publication charges remitted by Courts or private parties, all such moneys should be sent to Treasuries and only Treasury receipts forwarded to this office. No money orders or cash will be received by the undersigned except from parties outside the State.

7. Much inconvenience is caused to this office by subscribers omitting to give their full and correct addresses and writing illegibly on the money order coupons. They are requested to insert invariably the name of the Post Office to which their copy should be sent.

8. Communications on post cards or on paper less than quarter sheet of foolscap, will not receive attention; and no communication should be sent on Government Service by private parties.

GENERAL.

Notification No. G. 50 (one)—Med. 56-18-112, dated 8th July 1919.

INFLUENZA.

MEMORANDUM.

During 1918 a peculiar and exceptionally widespread epidemic of Influenza appeared, which affected the inhabitants of practically every continent. This epidemic not only caused directly or indirectly, a very large number of deaths which in India alone were computed to exceed five million, but left behind it a legacy of minor ailments with consequent national debility. The economic effect through the disorganization of trade cannot be estimated but must have been very great.

Although previously severe and worldwide epidemics have been known to occur, in none were the spread and mortality so alarming as in the epidemic of 1918. So far as it affected India, the epidemic of the summer months assumed a mild form of the disease. After an apparent departure, it re-appeared in a virulent and very fatal form during the autumn months and then seemingly disappeared at the end of the year. In fact this was not so, as small localized epidemics have occurred and sporadic cases have continued throughout the present year. As the experience of epidemics in England and elsewhere has been that recrudescences at intervals are liable to occur, it is highly desirable to be prepared for such an event in India.

With this object in view, this Memorandum has been prepared, which sets forth opinions founded upon the valuable observations made during the 1918 pandemic and contained in the world's medical literature, and which furnishes in the abstract a list of the preventive measures that promise to give the best results in India. It is not possible to say that even with the adoption of the suggested measures it will be possible to prevent the disease becoming epidemic, but it can safely be asserted that the observance of these rules will diminish the incidence of the infection.

The organism responsible for the epidemic of influenza has not been definitely identified. The weight of evidence still points, however, to the bacillus, called the bacillus of Pfeiffer being the cause: at all events it is intimately associated with the disease. Judging from clinical and epidemiological standpoints, the disease which appeared in India was identical with the last great pandemic of influenza which occurred in 1890-91. In the absence, however, of definite proof of the casual organism, this statement is a surmise although a probable one.

Influenza is a disease which exhibits an intense infectivity and an incubation period which is relatively very short, i.e., from 6 to 48 hours. It is commonly believed that the disease is spread by the infected secretions of the throat and nose of infected persons finding lodgment in the nose and throat of uninfected people. The commonest means by which this occurs is by coughing and sneezing, especially in confined spaces. Methods of prevention, then, will consist of preventing communication of infection by these channels.

These measures may be considered from two standpoints.

I—Procedure recommended for Military, Municipal, and other Administrative Bodies.

It is realized that no legislative measures can be adopted in most communities and moreover since the limitation of an epidemic of this nature depends more upon individual than upon legal enactments, the following general recommendations are made:

A. Education of the public with regard to such facts as the following:—

(1) The golden rule is to keep fit and avoid infection as much as possible.

(2) The way to keep fit is to cultivate healthy and regular habits, take regular exercise, to eat good food, and to avoid fatigue, chill and alcoholism. Healthy living does not of itself ensure against attack, but it makes the patient better able to withstand the complications which may kill.

(3) The earliest symptoms of influenza are usually those of a severe feverish cold: it is most infectious in the earliest stages; it is spread by discharges from the mouth and nose; it kills mainly by its complications and every person suffering from the disease, no matter of how mild a form, is a danger to others. For these reasons coughing, sneezing, spitting and hawking in public places are dangerous.

(4) It is not always possible to avoid infection, but the risks can be lessened by—
(a) healthy living;
(b) working and sleeping in well-ventilated rooms;
(c) avoiding crowded gatherings and close ill-ventilated buildings, or carriages;
(d) wearing warm clothing;
(e) irrigating the nose with saline solution (see later);
(f) wearing in certain instances a mask of prescribed pattern (see later).

(5) Do not lay too much emphasis upon drugs in the hope of preventing infection.

(6) Those attacked should—
(a) go to hospital or go home, go to bed and keep warm;
(b) call in a doctor, where possible;
(c) occupy, if possible, a separate bedroom or a bed that is screened off from the rest of the room;
(d) when coughing or sneezing hold a handkerchief in front of the mouth; the handkerchief should be boiled or sterilized in antiseptics, or burnt if of paper. Similar attention should be paid to linen, etc., soiled by discharges, by persons suffering from common cold or catarrh, as it is undoubted that in apparently healthy communities the infective agents of influenza are frequently present in such persons.
(e) Do not return to work, through a sense of duty, until convalescence is well established, and during convalescence be extremely careful to avoid chill which may induce a relapse or complications;
(f) avoid meetings and places of entertainment for at least one week after the temperature has become normal.

Such education we believe should be made compulsory in all schools and colleges; the press might aid by giving publicity to such measures as are recommended for adoption.

B. The closing of meeting places, schools, colleges, cinema halls, dancing halls, skating rings, churches, etc.—Regarding these measures universal recommendations cannot be made. The widespread depression in the minds of the general population during epidemic times must be remembered. Such depression may be a predisposing factor in the occurrence of the disease, and it is felt that if measures were passed such as closing all theatres and resorts of amusement, the effect on the public health might be worse than if nothing was done at all.

Again, take the instance of schools; if children were taken from well ventilated schools they might add to the congestion of already overcrowded houses. This matter must be left to individual localities to settle, bearing in mind that it is necessary to limit the number of unnecessary gatherings and that it is necessary to keep up the morale of the public. In this connection attention should be drawn to the dangers associated with travelling in cars and carriages. It is believed that a fertile source of the spread of infection occurs in overcrowded railway carriages, tram cars, etc. The prevention of overcrowding should especially be insisted on at such times and scrupulous cleanliness of carriages and cars be enforced. It is believed that much mischief was done in the last epidemic by the exodus from cities of panic-stricken populations, and facilities for such exodus should be prohibited.

C. The wearing of face masks.—Opinions are divided as to the efficacy of this measure: it largely depends upon their construction. The masks should be of very close woven muslin or gauze. Recent work in America would seem to point to a gauze with a mesh 44 by 40 to the inch; three to six layers of fine muslin should form the mask and they should be applied so as to cover the nose and mouth completely. The gauze is cut 8 inches wide and 23 inches long. Details of the method of manufacture are given in a foot-note.*

The use of these masks should be made compulsory among nurses and attendants in hospitals which admit influenza patients and might be adopted in houses where cases of influenza are present and among volunteers and others who come in contact with the sick. The wearing of a face mask, whilst having a certain protective action, exerts an educative influence upon the patients. Though it would be more reasonable for the patients to wear a mask, this is impracticable in view of further impending respiration which already may be difficult.

As there is a small possibility that droplets of infective matter lodging in the eyes may give rise to the disease, the use of goggles by such attendants may also be recommended.

Another suggested use of face masks is by barbers, dentists, etc., whose occupation brings them into close contact with a number of persons, and who if incubating the disease may otherwise infect their clients.

* The gauze 44 by 40 mesh is cut 8 inches wide and 23 inches long. The sides and one end are turned down one quarter inch. It is folded twice, the unturned end first, making a 7½ inch square. The opposite diagonal corners are cut off 1 inch and the raw edge is turned in one-half inch. It is stitched firmly all around. A 1 inch dart 1½ inches long is taken up at the middle of each side of the mask. A 14-inch tape is sewed on the opposite uncut corners. This mask has the advantage of covering the nose and mouth and in making the traction on the chin and not drawing on the nose and lips.

D. Isolation.—It is feared that insistence upon isolation of influenza cases in India is impossible. For one thing there is not sufficient hospital accommodation. Every case, however, of influenzal pneumonia should be rigorously isolated as the germs present in post-influenzal pneumonia are themselves infectious, altogether apart from the causative organisms of influenza. Hospitals should attempt to separate uncomplicated influenzal cases from those suffering from secondary pneumonia.

E. Sprays and Gargles.—The use of disinfectant sprays and gargles is not recommended. Disinfectants are apt to remove the protective mucus of the throat and mouth to cause irritation of the mucus membranes or lining membranes of these cavities and so predispose to the lodgment of infective material. They can hardly be used strong enough to be protective without causing violent irritation.

The use, however, of a solution of common salt one teaspoonful to a pint of 20 ozs. might be productive of good results if used as a gargle or sniffed up the nose, as it will produce an excess of the normal secretions of the nose and throat and this leads to the washing-out of micro-organisms.

F. Disinfection.—With regard to the disinfection of infected rooms, it seems fairly established that ordinary cleansing with water, airing, and sunning effect as much good as the use of actual disinfectants. In addition as already suggested, all handkerchiefs, sheets and clothings recently soiled (within 48 hours, as drying kills the infective agent) should be boiled or otherwise sterilized.

The periodic disinfection on the above lines of public places, e.g., railway waiting rooms, trams, rolling stock, dak bungalows, serais, etc., which in epidemic times may be taken to be infected, is also strongly recommended.

G. Quarantine.—A limited measure might be practised by local institutions such as resident colleges, schools, asylums and jails. A jail, for example, situated in an epidemic area might be rigid quarantine be reasonably certain of keeping out infection, or at least of delaying its appearance. There was evidence of the efficiency of this measure in certain jails in India during the last epidemic.

H. Notification.—Notification of all cases of influenza would be obviously impossible. A limited notification might, however, be adopted at ports; some value being likely to result from the notification of infected ships and the prompt removal to hospital of actual cases.

Notification of influenzal pneumonial is now compulsory in England and in Australia. This measure in India would only be possible amongst the military and in civil in large towns where the Municipal Acts already permit of the notification of all forms of infectious disease.

II. PROPHYLACTIC VACCINATION.

A mixed vaccine has been prepared and will be available in India in moderate quantities. Until its efficacy or its non-efficacy is established, we can offer no authoritative statement as to the advisability of general prophylactic inoculation.

III. MEASURES FOR ORGANIZED RELIEF.

(a) Local authorities should have ready lists of their requirements for doctors, nurses, the additional hospital staff required, such as sweepers, bhistis, etc., mask makers, motor cars, ambulance drivers and volunteers of all kinds necessary for the actual treatment of the sick; and have noted, as far as possible, the actual persons who could prove useful in various accessory capacities. A canvass of private cars which people are willing to lend as ambulances, might advantageously be made. Further, the names of volunteers, for district visiting and localization of cases should be noted.

In this connexion too it would be well for municipalities and other local authorities to entrust the actual arrangements prior to an epidemic and preparatory for it, to some already organized body such as the St. John's Ambulance Brigade Nursing Association, as in addition to the above, hospital requisites must be obtained, e.g., beds, mattresses, etc. Lists of what are available should be made ready.

(b) Resources of men and material should be centralized under one central authority.

(c) The work of district visitors in a house-to-house canvass, referred to under paragraph (a) above, should be co-ordinated. Valuable information would thus accrue as to the actual extent of the disease. These visitors should also be instructed as to the type of case and home which would justify home treatment being adopted, and when hospital treatment is necessary.

A central clearing house or a bed dispensary might be instituted in large towns and severe cases be transferred from these to the hospitals. Hospitals should be warned to admit only severe cases as their resources will be taxed to the uttermost.

(d) It is needless to say that all other public health organizations, such as vaccination and plague organization staff, etc., should be utilized for the various measures of influenza epidemic control.

OFFICE OF THE COMPILER, MYSORE GAZETTE.

NOTICE.

1. The Mysore Gazette is published at Bangalore every Thursday. Matter for publication in the Gazette is often sent late to the Press. This involves considerable inconvenience to the Press and expense to Government. All matter intended for publication in Parts II, III, IV, V and VI should therefore reach this office not later than Tuesday noon, and that for Part I not later than the forenoon of Wednesday, for the following Thursday's issue of the Gazette.

2. Spare copies of notifications, etc., are often asked for long after their publication, when the matter has been broken up, necessitating its resetting and thereby causing inconvenience to the Press and waste of money. When spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, should be made at foot of such manuscript. If spare copies exceeding 100 in number are required, the department concerned should supply the required quantity of paper.

3. Matter sent for insertion in the Gazette will be published only once.

4. Applications for the supply of the Gazette on Public Service should be made to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Mysore.

5. The English or the Kanarese portion of the Mysore Gazette, consisting of Parts I, II, III and V only, will be supplied to the Members of the Representative Assembly during their tenure of office as such Members, Shanbhogs, Patels, Nad Patels and Shekdars within the State at half rates on production of a certificate from the Amildar of the taluk to the effect that such applicant is bona fide on duty at the time. Such subscribers will please note that the Gazette cannot be had in separate Parts at concession rates. Those who pay Rs. 2 per annum will have Parts I, II, III and V only and those who require the other Parts will have to pay the full subscription fixed for the Part or Parts wanted; but those who pay Rs. 4 will get the entire copy of the Gazette.

6. As Government Treasuries in Mysore are authorized to receive and credit Gazette subscriptions as well as publication charges remitted by Courts or private parties, all such moneys should be sent to Treasuries and only Treasury receipts forwarded to this office. No money orders or cash will be received by the undersigned except from parties outside the State.

7. Much inconvenience is caused to this office by subscribers omitting to give their full and correct addresses and writing illegibly on the money order coupons. They are requested to insert invariably the name of the Post Office to which their copy should be sent.

8. Communications on post cards or on paper less than quarter sheet of foolscap, will not receive attention; and no communication should be sent on Government Service by private parties.

9. An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatch of Gazette copies forwarded through post. Duplicates cannot be supplied in any case of non-delivery.

10. Complaints regarding non-receipt of the Gazette should be forwarded to the undersigned within a week after the date on which it is due.

This new circle will be designated the "Southern Circle" with Headquartes at Madras under the charge of a Director of Telegraph Engineering. The remainder of the present Engineering Circle now known as "Southern" will then be styled the "Western Circle" with Headquarters at Bombay.

OFFICE OF THE COMPILER, MYSORE GAZETTE.

NOTICE.

1. The Mysore Gazette is published at Bangalore every Thursday. Matter for publication in the Gazette is often sent late to the Press. This involves considerable inconvenience to the Press and expense to Government. All matter intended for publication in Parts II, III, IV, V and VI should therefore reach this office not later than Tuesday noon, and that for Part I not later than the forenoon of Wednesday, for the following Thursday's issue of the Gazette.

2. Spare copies of notifications, etc., are often asked for long after their publication, when the matter has been broken up, necessitating its resetting and thereby causing inconvenience to the Press and waste of money. When spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, should be made at foot of such manuscript. If spare copies exceeding 100 in number are required, the department concerned should supply the required quantity of paper.

3. Matter sent for insertion in the Gazette will be published only once.

4. Applications for the supply of the Gazette on Public Service should be made to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Mysore.

5. The English or the Kanarese portion of the Mysore Gazette, consisting of Parts I, II, III and V only, will be supplied to the Members of the Representative Assembly during their tenure of office as such Members, Shanbhogs, Patels, Nad Patels and Shekdars within the State at half rates on production of a certificate from the Amildar of the taluk to the effect that such applicant is bona fide on duty at the time. Such subscribers will please note that the Gazette cannot be had in separate Parts at concession rates. Those who pay Rs. 2 per annum will have Parts I, II, III and V only and those who require the other Parts will have to pay the full subscription fixed for the Part or Parts wanted; but those who pay Rs. 4 will get the entire copy of the Gazette.

6. As Government Treasuries in Mysore are authorized to receive and credit Gazette subscriptions as well as publication charges remitted by Courts or private parties, all such moneys should be sent to Treasuries and only Treasury receipts forwarded to this office. No money orders or cash will be received by the undersigned except from parties outside the State.

7. Much inconvenience is caused to this office by subscribers omitting to give their full and correct addresses and writing illegibly on the money order coupons. They are requested to insert invariably the name of the Post Office to which their copy should be sent.

8. Communications on post cards or on paper less than quarter sheet of foolscap, will not receive attention; and no communication should be sent on Government Service by private parties.

9. An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatch of Gazette copies forwarded through post. Duplicates cannot be supplied in any case of non-delivery.

10. Complaints regarding non-receipt of the Gazette should be forwarded to the undersigned within a week after the date on which it is due.

11. The revised rates of subscription to the Gazette, which are payable in advance, are as follows:—

OFFICE OF THE COMPILER, MYSORE GAZETTE.

NOTICE.

1. The Mysore Gazette is published at Bangalore every Thursday. Matter for publication in the Gazette is often sent late to the Press. This involves considerable inconvenience to the Press and expense to Government. All matter intended for publication in Parts II, III, IV, V and VI should therefore reach this office not later than Tuesday noon, and that for Part I not later than the forenoon of Wednesday, for the following Thursday's issue of the Gazette.

2. Spare copies of notifications, etc., are often asked for long after their publication, when the matter has been broken up, necessitating its resetting and thereby causing inconvenience to the Press and waste of money. When spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, should be made at foot of such manuscript. If spare copies exceeding 100 in number are required, the department concerned should supply the required quantity of paper.

3. Matter sent for insertion in the Gazette will be published only once.

4. Applications for the supply of the Gazette on Public Service should be made to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Mysore.

5. The English or the Kanarese portion of the Mysore Gazette, consisting of Parts I, II, III and V only, will be supplied to the Members of the Representative Assembly during their tenure of office as such Members, Shanbhogs, Patels, Nad Patels and Shekdars within the State at half rates on production of a certificate from the Amildar of the taluk to the effect that such applicant is bona fide on duty at the time. Such subscribers will please note that the Gazette cannot be had in separate Parts at concession rates. Those who pay Rs. 2 per annum will have Parts I, II, III and V only and those who require the other Parts will have to pay the full subscription fixed for the Part or Parts wanted; but those who pay Rs. 4 will get the entire copy of the Gazette.

6. As Government Treasuries in Mysore are authorized to receive and credit Gazette subscriptions as well as publication charges remitted by Courts or private parties, all such moneys should be sent to Treasuries and only Treasury receipts forwarded to this office. No money orders or cash will be received by the undersigned except from parties outside the State.

7. Much inconvenience is caused to this office by subscribers omitting to give their full and correct addresses and writing illegibly on the money order coupons. They are requested to insert invariably the name of the Post Office to which their copy should be sent.

8. Communications on post cards or on paper less than quarter sheet of foolscap, will not receive attention; and no communication should be sent on Government Service by private parties.

9. An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatch of Gazette copies forwarded through post. Duplicates cannot be supplied in any case of non-delivery.

10. Complaints regarding non-receipt of the Gazette should be forwarded to the undersigned within a week after the date on which it is due.

OFFICE OF THE COMPILER, MYSORE GAZETTE.

NOTICE.

1. The Mysore Gazette is published at Bangalore every Thursday. Matter for publication in the Gazette is often sent late to the Press. This involves considerable inconvenience to the Press and expense to Government. All matter intended for publication in Parts II, III, IV, V and VI should therefore reach this office not later than Tuesday noon, and that for Part I not later than the forenoon of Wednesday, for the following Thursday's issue of the Gazette.

2. Spare copies of notifications, etc., are often asked for long after their publication, when the matter has been broken up, necessitating its resetting and thereby causing inconvenience to the Press and waste of money. When spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, should be made at foot of such manuscript. If spare copies exceeding 100 in number are required, the department concerned should supply the required quantity of paper.

3. Matter sent for insertion in the Gazette will be published only once.

4. Applications for the supply of the Gazette on Public Service should be made to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Mysore.

5. The English or the Kanarese portion of the Mysore Gazette, consisting of Parts I, II, III and V only, will be supplied to the Members of the Representative Assembly during their tenure of office as such Members, Shanbhogs, Patels, Nad Patels and Shekdars within the State at half rates on production of a certificate from the Amildar of the taluk to the effect that such applicant is bona fide on duty at the time. Such subscribers will please note that the Gazette cannot be had in separate Parts at concession rates. Those who pay Rs. 2 per annum will have Parts I, II, III and V only and those who require the other Parts will have to pay the full subscription fixed for the Part or Parts wanted; but those who pay Rs. 4 will get the entire copy of the Gazette.

6. As Government Treasuries in Mysore are authorized to receive and credit Gazette subscriptions as well as publication charges remitted by Courts or private parties, all such moneys should be sent to Treasuries and only Treasury receipts forwarded to this office. No money orders or cash will be received by the undersigned except from parties outside the State.

7. Much inconvenience is caused to this office by subscribers omitting to give their full and correct addresses and writing illegibly on the money order coupons. They are requested to insert invariably the name of the Post Office to which their copy should be sent.

8. Communications on post cards or on paper less than quarter sheet of foolscap, will not receive attention; and no communication should be sent on Government Service by private parties.

9. An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatch of Gazette copies forwarded through post. Duplicates cannot be supplied in any case of non-delivery.

10. Complaints regarding non-receipt of the Gazette should be forwarded to the undersigned within a week after the date on which it is due.

11. The revised rates of subscription to the Gazette, which are payable in advance, are as follow:—

OFFICE OF THE COMPILER, MYSORE GAZETTE.

NOTICE.

1. The Mysore Gazette is published at Bangalore every Thursday. Matter for publication in the Gazette is often sent late to the Press. This involves considerable inconvenience to the Press and expense to Government. All matter intended for publication in Parts II, III, IV, V and VI should therefore reach this office not later than Tuesday noon, and that for Part I not later than the forenoon of Wednesday, for the following Thursday's issue of the Gazette.

2. Spare copies of notifications, etc., are often asked for long after their publication, when the matter has been broken up, necessitating its resetting and thereby causing inconvenience to the Press and waste of money. When spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, should be made at foot of such manuscript. If spare copies exceeding 100 in number are required, the department concerned should supply the required quantity of paper.

3. Matter sent for insertion in the Gazette will be published only once.

4. Applications for the supply of the Gazette on Public Service should be made to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Mysore.

Those who pay Rs. 2 per annum will have Parts I, II, III and V only and those who require the other Parts will have to pay the full subscription fixed for the Part or Parts wanted; but those who pay Rs. 4 will get the entire copy of the Gazette.

6. As Government Treasuries in Mysore are authorized to receive and credit Gazette subscriptions as well as publication charges remitted by Courts or private parties, all such moneys should be sent to Treasuries and only Treasury receipts forwarded to this office. No money orders or cash will be received by the undersigned except from parties outside the State.

7. Much inconvenience is caused to this office by subscribers omitting to give their full and correct addresses and writing illegibly on the money order coupons. They are requested to insert invariably the name of the Post Office to which their copy should be sent.

8. Communications on post cards or on paper less than quarter sheet of foolscap, will not receive attention; and no communication should be sent on Government Service by private parties.

9. An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatch of Gazette copies forwarded through post. Duplicates cannot be supplied in any case of non-delivery.

GENERAL.

No. G. 4287—Med. 70-18-6, dated 21st August 1919.

All suggestions on the subject may be sent to the Chief Secretary to Government, before the end of September 1919.

IMPROVEMENT OF MEDICAL AID IN THE STATE.

(1) G. O. No. G. 17729-35—Med. 70-18-1, dated 18th February 1919, appointing a Committee to consider the question of medical relief in the State.

(2) Report of the Committee and its enclosures, Appendices I. to IV.

ORDER No. G. 17729-35—MED. 70-18-1, DATED 18TH FEBRUARY 1919.

Mysore with an area of 29,461 square miles has now only 174 medical institutions composed of thirteen hospitals, one hundred and twenty-nine dispensaries, three maternities and other institutions to serve the medical need of nearly six millions of people. This gives on an average, one institution for every 169 square miles and about 32,800 inhabitants. The number cannot be considered quite adequate and further additions will have to be made as time progresses.

The Malnad Improvement Scheme sanctioned to improve the conditions of the Malnad area, and to render special medical aid to the people there, is on a temporary basis—but eight dispensaries now ordered to be opened will eventually become permanent institutions with further additions to their number as the country gets further opened up by communications.

For the total number of institutions mentioned above, there is now a staff of 291 officers. The staff requires considerable strengthening.

The existing vacancies in the Department are about 20 and the number of Sub-Assistant Surgeons in the service 220. No provision for reserve is made at present. Ten per cent at least will be necessary for this purpose. The total number to be recruited during the next five years with existing institutions and three additional institutions for each year has also to be taken into consideration.

The possibility of recruitment from outside for providing for the needs of the Medical and Sanitary Departments is very limited—almost nil—considering the requirements in British India and the improved prospects recently thrown open to those in the British Medical Service.

The following points have in addition to be specially considered :—

1. Adequacy or otherwise of the present organisation for medical relief in the State.
2. Necessity for increasing the number of hospitals and dispensaries in the outlying parts of the State.
3. Feasibility of extending medical aid through Ayurvedic and Unani institutions.
4. Improving female medical relief throughout the State.
5. A programme for the next five years and the advisability of starting a Medical Faculty and re-organizing the Medical School.
6. Question of adjusting the financial responsibility of Government Municipal Councils and District Boards in regard to medical institutions.
7. Immediate requirements of the Department—additional medical staff needed in all grades and how to recruit them.

For a careful consideration of these and allied matters, Government are pleased to sanction the constitution of a Committee with the Senior Surgeon as President and with the following official and non-official gentlemen as members :—

Dr. Mylvaganam, F.R.C.S.
Mr. C. S. Balasundaram Iyer, B.A., Chief Secretary to Government.

Dr. Miss R. Govindarajulu, M.D.
Rajakaryaprasakta Rao Bahadur Mr. M. Shama Rao, M.A., retired Inspector-General of Education in Mysore.
Mr. S. R. Balakrishna Rao, B.A., LL.B., Member, University Senate.
Mr. Gulam Ahmed Kalami.

The Committee are requested to meet at a very early date to consider all the above questions thoroughly and submit their recommendations to Government within two months.

II

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO CONSIDER THE QUESTION OF MEDICAL RELIEF.

With reference to Government Order No. G. 17729-35—Med. 70-18-1, dated the 18th February 1919, we the members of the Committee therein constituted to consider the question of the adequacy or otherwise of the existing organisation for medical relief in the State and other allied matters, have the honor to submit the following report.

The Committee met in the office of the Senior Surgeon on the 15th and the 16th of April 1919. All the members (including Mr. M. Subbiah added to the Committee by G. O. No. G. 22014-15—Med. 70-18-2, dated 29th March 1919) were present, except Mr. Gulam Ahmed Kalami who did not attend.

We have duly considered the several points referred to us for consideration and our recommendations, based on the information furnished by the President and further elicited during the discussion, are as follows :—

1. Adequacy of the present organisation for Medical Relief.

We are of the opinion that the existing organisation for medical relief is not quite adequate and needs improvement. Excluding the Bangalore and the Mysore Cities, there are now 120 Local Fund Dispensaries in the State which are insufficient to meet the medical needs of the rural population. We recommend the opening of 110 new dispensaries during the next five years. We have carefully gone through the list of places where dispensaries now exist and of those where the opening of new ones is suggested by the Deputy Commissioners and the District Medical Officers of the several districts. Considering the area, population and the climatic and other conditions of the several localities, the 110 new dispensaries may be distributed as follows :—

|---|---|
| Bangalore District | 10 |
| Kolar " | 12 |
| Tumkur " | 14 |
| Mysore " | 17 |
| Chitaldrug " | 15 |
| Hassan " | 10 |
| Kadur " | 14 |
| Shimoga " | 18 |
| Total | 110 |

To enhance the usefulness of the dispensaries at the important stations of Nanjangud, Seringapatam, Channapatna, Chikballapur, Davangere, Saklespur, Mudgere and Koppa, we think it desirable to post a Sub-Assistant Surgeon to each, to help the Assistant Surgeons now in charge, in doing major operations, and to increase the number of beds in these institutions to 10 or more according to local needs. Similarly, an extra Sub-Assistant Surgeon (a junior) may be posted to each dispensary in certain other places which have a large population or are considered to be important from a commercial or other point of view, the number of such places being limited to 20. The Committee would leave the selection of the places where new dispensaries should be opened and of those where extra Sub-Assistant Surgeons should be posted, to be made by the Senior Surgeon in consultation with the District Boards concerned. We futher think it necessary to develop the present hospitals in District Headquarters other than Bangalore and Mysore and to bring them up-to-date. It is also necessary to construct new and up-to-date buildings for the Lunatic Asylum.

2. Necessity for increasing the number of hospitals and dispensaries in the outlying parts of the State.

This point has been dealt with under point No. 1.

3. Feasibility of extending Medical aid through Ayurvedic and Unani Institutions.

We think that the extension of medical aid through indigenous institutions is feasible if properly qualified Vaidyans and Hakims could be turned out from the training institution at Mysore, which, again, is possible only if competent Professors of the Ayurvedic and Unani systems of medicine become available.

4. Improving Female Medical aid throughout the State.

The provision, at each Taluk Headquarter, of a female dispensary in charge of a lady Sub-Assistant Surgeon, is an ideal which the Committee would recommend to be kept in view and worked up to, as qualified hands become available. Each such dispensary should be provided with two midwives, so that one may always be available for work at the dispensary when the other is called away to attend on labour cases outside. It is desirable to have Maternities at each district headquarter and to provide facilities therein for local dayees to undergo training in scientific midwifery. They should be provided with quarters in the premises and be granted liberal scholarships. The Committee are given to understand that this matter is already under the consideration of Government and that a beginning has been made in Shimoga. We would press for the early construction of an up-to-date building for the Maternity at Bangalore which should be shifted from the present antiquated building.

5. (1) Advisability of starting a Medical Faculty.

We think it is advisable to start a Medical Faculty at Bangalore in connection with the Mysore University, at a very early date, by establishing a Medical College, the cost of which works out, roughly, as follows:—

| | Rs. |
|---|---|
| Initial cost, on buildings, viz., lecture halls, physiological and other laboratories, museum, students' hostel, etc. ... ... | 7,00,000 |
| Furniture and equipment for above ... ... ... | 1,25,000 |
| Total initial cost ... | 8,25,000 |
| Annual recurring expenditure, when all the five college classes are working. Pay and Allowances to the Tutorial staff ... ... | 45,100 |
| Do. to clerical and menial staff ... ... | 6,000 |
| Requirements of the laboratories and other contingencies ... | 9,000 |
| Total recurring ... | 60,100 |

(2) Re-organisation of the Medical School.

This will follow on the establishment and development of the Medical College proposed above.

(3) Programme for the next five years.

If the work of opening the new dispensaries, the development or improvement of certain existing medical institutions, the improvement of the other existing medical institutions and the starting of the Medical College, be spread over five years, the work to be undertaken in each year will be—

| | Rs. |
|---|---|
| I Year.—Opening of 22 L. F. Dispensaries—initial cost ... ... | 4,04,000 |
| recurring do ... ... | 48,012 |
| Improvement of 2 District Headquarter Hospitals and Female Dispensary (roughly) ... ... ... ... | 60,000 |
| One-fifth cost of construction of medical buildings, viz., Lunatic Asylum, Maternity and Medical College, about ... ... | 4,00,000 |
| Working of the first year college class—about ... ... | 15,000 |
| Total ... | 9,27,012 |
| II Year.—Opening of 22 new dispensaries—initial cost ... ... | 4,04,000 |
| recurring cost for 44 dispensaries ... ... | 96,024 |
| Improvement of one Headquarter Hospital and Female Dispensary as above ... ... ... ... | 30,000 |
| One-fifth cost of new medical buildings ... ... | 4,00,000 |
| Working of two college classes ... ... ... | 25,000 |

| | Rs. |
|---|---|
| III Year.—Opening of 22 new dispensaries—initial cost | 4,04,000 |
| recurring charges for 66 dispensaries | 1,44,036 |
| Improvement of a District Headquarter Hospital | 30,000 |
| One-fifth cost of medical buildings | 4,00,000 |
| Working of three college classes | 35,000 |
| Total | 10,13,036 |

|---|---|
| IV Year.—Opening of 22 new dispensaries—initial cost | 4,04,000 |
| recurring charges for 88 dispensaries | 1,92,048 |
| Improvement of a District Headquarter Hospital and Female Dispensary | 30,000 |
| One-fifth cost of medical buildings as above | 4,00,000 |
| Working of four college classes | 45,000 |
| Total | 10,71,048 |

|---|---|
| V Year.—Opening of 22 new dispensaries—initial cost | 4,04,000 |
| recurring cost of 110 dispensaries | 2,40,060 |
| Development of one District Headquarter Hospital and Female Dispensary | 30,000 |
| One-fifth cost of construction of medical buildings as above | 4,00,000 |
| Full working of the Medical College | 60,000 |
| Total | 11,34,060 |

6. Question of adjusting the financial responsibility of Government, Municipal Councils and District Boards in regard to Medical Institutions.

The District Headquarter Hospitals are now being maintained entirely by Government and we think that this may be continued. As regards the medical institutions in rural areas the majority (4) of us are of opinion that, in view of the poor finances of most of the District and Municipal Boards, the Government may be pleased to bear the entire initial cost of dispensaries, and one-half of the total recurring charges, the other half being met by the local bodies. The opinion of the two dissenting members is that the Government and the Local Boards may bear the initial as well as the recurring charges equally.

As regards Medical Officers (Surgeons and Assistant Surgeons) we understand that the full sanctioned strength is now working and that in view of the improved pay and prospects recently sanctioned, recruitment to this class will offer no difficulty.

It is only Sub-Assistant Surgeons that will be required in large numbers, say, 25 to 30 every year, at least during the next five years, for the new dispensaries and to fill up the vacancies. The minimum pay of Rs. 45 recently fixed by the Government may not be inadequate to local candidates. But in view of the fact that for some years more we shall have to depend on qualified hands from outside, we recommend the raising of the minimum pay of Sub-Assistant Surgeons to 50 Rs. the minimum obtainable in the Madras service. We understand that Government have sanctioned 25 scholarships of Rs 15 each for male candidates and 4 of Rs. 20 each for female candidates to undergo training as Sub-Assistant Surgeons, and consider that this provision is ample for our requirements. It was represented that sufficient number of local candidates possessing the required educational qualification were not forthcoming in the last two years and to meet the difficulty, the scholarships might be thrown open to outside candidates also, preference being given to local candidates. We however, hope, that, in view of the rate of scholarship being raised to Rs. 15 and the improvement, in the starting pay of Sub-Assistant Surgeons, a sufficient number of local S. S. L. C. men will be forthcoming hereafter.

The pay and prospects of Compounders need early improvement and we recommend the early sanction of the scale proposed by the Senior Surgeon, when recruitment to this class will be easy.

The preliminary note read by the Senior Surgeon in opening the discussion of the several questions, is appended to this report, together with its enclosures.

APPENDIX I.

NOTE BY THE SENIOR SURGEON ON THE SEVERAL POINTS REFERRED TO THE COMMITTEE FOR CONSIDERATION, BY G. O. No. G. 17729-35—MED. 70-18-1, DATED 18TH FEBRUARY 1919.

1. Adequacy of the present organisation for Medical Relief.

Whether the existing arrangements for medical relief in the State are adequate, is a matter of opinion. While, from the popular point of view, the scope for increasing the number of medical institutions is very large, from an administrative point of veiw the question is purely one of ways and means. The following figures taken from the annual administration reports of the Medical Departments of the Madras Presidency and the Mysore State, for the year 1917, speak for themselves.

The Madras Presidency, with an area of 1,42,330 square miles and a population of 4,14,05,404, contains 707 medical institutions (indigenous institutions excluded) or one institution for every 201 square miles and for every 57,556 of the population. Mysore with an area of 29,461 square miles, and a population of 57,05,359 contains 174 medical institutions or one institution for every 169 square miles and for every 32,789 of the population. Compared with the neighbouring Presidency, therefore, the Mysore State has provided greater facilities for medical aid to its population.

The whole State is divided into 79 taluks (including the Jahgirs of Yelandur and Sringeri). The average area of a taluk is 373 square miles, which is equal to a circle of nearly 11 miles radius. Every taluk contains at least one dispensary, at its headquarter. There are 22 taluks containing two dispensaries each, 4 containing three dispensaries each, the taluks of Manjarabad, Sagar and Chikmagalur contain four dispensaries each and the taluks of Tarikere and Tirthahalli contain five dispensaries each. A districtwar and talukwar statement showing the names of places where dispensaries exist, is appended. Places where new dispensaries are proposed, are also shown in the statement.

2. Necessity for increasing the number of Hospitals and dispensaries in the outlying parts.

From the opinions furnished by the District Officers, the opening of new dispensaries is necessary in 10 places in the Bangalore District, 12 in the Kolar District, 14 in Tumkur, 7 in Mysore, 7 in Hassan, 6 in Kadur, 17 in Shimoga and 24 in the Chitaldrug District or a total of 97. It may be taken that the number of new dispensaries required is about 100.

3. Feasibility of extending Medical aid through Ayurvedic and Unani Institutions.

There are 9 indigenous institutions in the Bangalore District, of which 3 are in the Bangalore City and 6 in the taluks; 1 in the Kolar District, 5 in the Tumkur District; 11 in the Mysore District, of which 4 are in the Mysore City and 7 in the taluks; 3 in the Hassan District, 3 in the Kadur District; and 6 in the Shimoga District, and 6 in the Chitaldrug District. So long as the standard of training and the qualification of Vaidyans and Hakims remain what they are at present, it is a point for consideration, how far it is justifiable for Government to subsidise these indigenous institutions and authorise medical aid to the population through them. Some extracts from the "Indian Medical Gazette" regarding the indigenous system of medicine are appended.

4. Improving female medical relief throughout the State.

Under this head, the first place has to be given to the provision of help to women in labor. There are 19 midwives in the Bangalore District, 16 in the Kolar District, 14 in Tumkur, 27 in Mysore, 15 in Hassan, 18 in Shimoga, 14 in the Kadur and 11 in the Chitaldrug District, or 134 midwives in all, working in the State. If a midwife be attached to each of the new dispensaries proposed in paragraph 2 above, the total number of midwives will be 234. Government in their Order No. G. 7849-51—Med. 130-16-4, dated 29th October 1918, have sanctioned the grant of 10 scholarships of Rs. 15 each to literate women and 18 scholarships of Rs. 10 each to Dayees or women practising midwifery in the crude way. With the co-operation of the local Revenue authorities and of non-official gentlemen, if the required number of candidates of each class could be secured, 28 qualified midwives will be truned out every year, of whom 20 can be available for the 20 dispensaries to be opened every year for the next five years.

As regards general medical aid to women, there are at present, three well equipped Maternities at Bangalore, Mysore and Robertsonpet, six Female Dispensaries, one at each of the other six District Headquarters, with accommodation for a few beds, and one each at Sagar, Chikballapur, Tarikere and Tirthahalli. The total number of Female dispensaries (including Maternities) now working in the State is 13. The establishment of female dispensaries at Davangere, Nanjangud and Chintamani is under consideration. Female dispensaries, with accommodation for a few cases of confinement may with advantage be opened at Saklespur, Koppa, Mudgere and Kallurkatte. This will bring the number of female medical institutions to 20.

5. Programme for the next five years and the advisability of starting a Medical Faculty and Re-organising the Medical School.

So far as medical institutions are concerned, the programme for meeting the requirements noted above are, 100 new dispensaries, development of each of the six Female dispensaries at District Headquarters (except Bangalore and Mysore), the starting of seven new female dispensaries or dispensaries with provision for the admission of a few maternity cases. To this may be added the improvement of the existing District Headquarter Hospitals (except those of Bangalore and Mysore). Spread over five years, the above work will mean, establishing 20 new dispensaries every year, development of at least one Civil Hospital and the connected Female dispensary, and the opening of two or three Female dispensaries, during each of the next five years.

| | | Rs |
|---|---|---|
| Initial cost.—Dispensary with in-patients' wards | | 11,000 |
| Quarters for staff | | 6,000 |
| Equipment—Europe medicines and instruments | | 1,000 |
| Furniture, bedding and clothing | | 400 |
| | Total | 18,400 |

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Establishment— | | |
| Sub-Assistant Surgeon, | Rs. 45-70 or 57½ | |
| Charge allowance | ,, 10, 15 or 20 | |
| Compounder | ,, 15 | |
| Surgery Cooly | ,, 8 | |
| Waterwoman | ,, 5 | |
| Midwife | ,, 15+3 or 5 | |
| Contingencies— | | |
| Bedding and clothing | ,, 5 | |
| Dieting charges | ,, 5 | |
| Country medicines | ,, 5 | |
| Other contingencies | ,, 5 | |
| | | Rs. |
| | Total per month Rs. 130½ or year | 1,566 |
| | Cost of Europe medicines | 600 |
| | Total recurring charges per year | 2,166 |

The present distribution of cost of dispensaries is as follows:—Of the initial charges the cost of buildings is met by State and District Funds in equal proportions, the cost or Europe medicines is met by Government and the cost of furniture, etc., by District Boards. Of the recurring charges, the pay of the medical subordinate in charge and the cost of Europe medicines is met by Government, and the other maintenance charges by the District Boards.

| | State Funds | District Funds |
|---|---|---|
| The cost for 20 male and 2 female dispensaries will be— | Rs. | Rs. |
| Buildings Rs. 8,500 x 22 | 1,87,000 | 1,87,000 |
| Equipment—Europe medicines, instruments, etc., 1,000 x 22 | 22,000 | .. |
| Furniture, bedding, etc., 400 x 22 | .. | 8,800 |
| Total | 2,09,000 | 1,95,000 |
| Development of a district hospital and the attached female dispensary—roughly | 30,000 | .. |
| Total | 2,39,000 | .. |
| Recurring charges for 20 male and 2 female Sub-Assistant Surgeons (with sex allowance of Rs. 15 each) (57½ x 22+15 x 2) x 12. | 15,540 | .. |
| Other charges 73 x 12+22 | .. | 19,272 |
| Europe medicines 600 x 22 | 13,200 | .. |

The Medical School was started just two years ago and it will take another year to start the final year class or to have the four classes running together. Preliminary plan and estimates for constructing the necessary buildings have been submitted to Government and it may take some years before the work is actually taken up and finished. To start a Medical College, it will be necessary to have all the buildings and fittings ready. When a Medical Faculty may be instituted in connection with the local University and a Medical College started, has to be now considered.

6. Adjustment of financial responsibility between Government, District or Municipal Funds.

At present, the cost of constructing dispensary buildings and quarters to the staff is borne in equal proportions by the State, District and Municipal Funds in Municipal areas and by State and District Funds only, in other rural tracts. As regards equipment, the cost of Europe medicines and instruments (Rs. 1,000) is met from State Funds and the cost of furniture, bedding and clothing, Rs. 400, from District Funds or District and Municipal Funds in the ratio of 1 : 1, or 1 : 2, or 2 : 1 according to the financial position of the local bodies. As regards the recurring charges, the pay of the medical subordinate in charge and the cost of Europe medicines (about Rs. 600) is met from State Funds and the other charges are met by District Funds or District and Municipal Funds in the same way as the cost of buildings. How far either the Government or the local bodies may be relieved of any portion of their present share of the cost, has to be considered.

7. Immediate requirements of the Department.

Medical Graduates.—The sanctioned strength is 9 and only one is now available. Eight more are required. In response to an advertisement, five applications have been received and if three or four candidates out of those who may pass out this year are secured, the requirements will be met.

Sub-Assistant Surgeons.—The sanctioned strength is 190 against which there are now 180 working in the department, leaving ten vacancies. Of the four Mysore candidates that passed the final Sub-Assistant Surgeon's examination from the Royapuram Medical School, to have reported themselves. If the other two also report themselves, then six new hands have to be secured. One of the existing hands who has completed the seven year's service according to his convenant, has sent in his resignation. New applicants with the proper qualification, are not inclined to join although the Government have raised the minimum pay of the Sub-Assistant Surgeon's grade to Rs. 45. The local subordinate medical service will continue to be less attractive than that of Madras till the Madras scale of pay is introduced in Mysore in its entirety.

Midwives.—Sanctioned strength 159 and the number now in service is 145, leaving 14 pucca vacancies. There will be some difficulty in securing the number of qualified hands, as applicants often do not join after receiving order of appointment, on account of unwillingness to go to outlying stations.

Compounders.—Sanctioned strength is 171, number in service is 154, leaving 17 vacancies. If the scale of pay of compounders is raised to Rs. 15-18-21-25, as proposed, qualified candidates will be forthcoming. The present scale of Rs. 8-10-12-15, is too inadequate.

INDIAN MEDICAL GAZETTE.

MARCH 1919.

Indigenous Drugs.—We have in this issue and in that for February 1919 (vide also March 1918 number) published very interesting articles on the claims made by the supporters of the ancient Hindu systems of medicine, which will show clearly to any unbiassed mind that no Government could possibly entertain any scheme for the furthering of such a system in this modern world. A system, as Lieutenant-Colonel Sutherland writes, which "teaches that drugs and natural excretions long since rejected in other lands should be used to-day in the treatment of disease can only be called antiquated." A system which teaches that the semen of mice is poisonous, that scorpions are generated by cowdung and by dead snakes, that a physician can gather valuable information as to a patient's disease before he sees him by observing the complexion, gait and caste of the messenger used, cannot seriously be considered, and has no right to demand that public money be spent on its encouragement.

While, however, we all agree that neither time nor money should be wasted on such obsolete absurdities, we are strongly of opinion that the time has come—indeed has long arrived—when a serious and scientific attempt should be made to investigate the indigenous drugs of India, and no time should be lost in appointing well-trained pharmacologists to the new schools of Tropical Medicine in Calcutta and elsewhere to take up this important subject.

The War which has just ended has taught us many things and in India we have learnt the grave disadvantages of being too dependent upon other countries for the necessities of life and trade, and this has proved to be so in the case of many drugs and medical and surgical necessities.

We have before us a very useful pamphlet by Dr. J. C. Ghose, B.Sc., (Manchester), F.C.S., in which he makes a plea for the study of the indigenous drugs of India and for their scientific cultivation and manufacture in India.

* * * * * * *

Drugs cultivation alone, however, is not sufficient, modern physicians tend more and more to give up the use of crude drugs and to use only the active principles, the physiological and therapeutic action of which can be established by experiment and by experience.

To do this in India necessitates the employment of trained and expert chemists.

We strongly commend this useful little pamphlet to the notice of our readers. There is much to be done, and the sooner the work is begun in India the better.

APPENDIX II.

NOTE ON THE AYURVEDIC MEDICAL COLLEGE SEPARATELY FURNISHED BY MR. S. R. BALAKRISHNA RAO, MEMBER OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO CONSIDER THE QUESTION OF MEDICAL RELIEF.

Ayurvedic College.

The College is now under the management of the Muzrai Department. The attention that is bestowed on it cannot be said to be adequate, the chief function of the department being the efficient administration of temples, mosques, etc. It appears as if the College is preserved more as an ancient institution, where time-honoured practices in the art of healing are encouraged than as a regular branch of the present day administration. It is well-known that we cannot supplant the indigenous systems of Medical treatment, even if we multiply the allopathic dispensaries ten-fold or even hundred-fold. Nor do I consider it proper to so ignore the indigenous system as to eventually end it out-right. It does not require any elaborate pleading for the continuance and encouragement of this system. Without therefore dilating on the matter any more, I would recommend :—

(1) That the Mysore Ayurvedic College be placed under the administrative control of the educational department or the University.

(2) That the staff do consist of graduates in medicine who have had training in the Ayurvedic College in British India or who have studied Ayurveda in proper manner.

(3) That an indigenous medical service be constituted with a regular cadre and the same placed on a footing of equality to other regular departments of Government, so as to ensure to the candidates passing out of the College a decent start in Government service instead of the present uncertain employment by the District Boards and Municipalities.

APPENDIX III. 80

NOTES SEPARATELY FURNISHED BY DR. H. B. MYLVAGANAM, MEMBER OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO CONSIDER THE QUESTION OF MEDICAL RELIEF.

Ceylon, with a population of 4,632,384 on 31st December 1917, had besides a Lunatic Asylum and Leper Asylum in Colombo which are capable of accommodating respectively 514 and 406 patients, 84 Government Hospitals with accommodation varying from 12 to 665 beds. Of these, in Colombo alone one meets with the following Medical Institutions, viz., (1) The General Hospital with 665 beds, (2) De Soyza's Lying-in-home, (3) Victoria Memorial Eye Hospital, (4) Grenier Ear and Throat Infirmary, (5) Lunatic Asylum, (6) Lady Havelock Hospital for women, (7) Lady Ridgeway Memorial Hospital for children, (8) Convict Hospital, (9) Infectious Disease Hospital, (10) Police Hospital, (11) Bacteriological Institute, (12) Leper Asylum, (13) Anti-Tuberculosis Institute and (14) Ceylon Medical College. These Hospitals were well equipped with modern conveniences and appliance and officered by qualified medical men, the larger ones also having a trained staff of nurses. In addition to these Hospitals, there were 441 central and branch dispensaries. Besides these, there were six other Hospitals in course of construction including a second Leper Asylum, in 1917. The Hospitals and Dispensaries in Ceylon are built, equipped and maintained by the Ceylon Government. All the medical men in charge of the Hospitals and Dispensaries are either Licentiates of the Ceylon Medical College which has existed for the past 50 years or men qualified in English Universities. There are no Sub-Assistant Surgeons in Ceylon.

But in Mysore State with a population of 5,705,359 we have only 174 Medical Institutions in all. Out of the 174 Medical Institutions, there are only 7 District Hospitals and 161 Local Fund Dispensaries, besides the hospitals at Bangalore and Mysore and the Minto Ophthalmic Hospital. Most of the officers in charge of the Dispensaries belong to a class of medical men indigenous to India, known as Sub-Assistant Surgeons. In the past, they have done useful work in the absence of a sufficient number of fully qualified medical men in India. As Mysore is a self-governing State, independent of British India, with enormous resources of its own, there is no longer any necessity to follow in the foot steps of the neighbouring Presidencies. Let us go a step further and follow the examples set by Ceylon and other British Colonies in their medical organization. Our district hospitals are badly equipped and officered. They have no staff of trained nurses to speak of. The officers in charge of these institutions are mostly incapable men. The number of men with European qualifications is very few in Mysore and we need more men with European training to be in charge of the District Hospitals. These hospitals require to be made more attractive and useful, by placing efficient men in their charge. Promotion by seniority in service has been the cause of retrogression in the past.

I earnestly suggest that we gradually replace the Sub-Assistant Surgeons with graduates or Licentiates in medicine as in Ceylon. It is only then that we can hope to give adequate medical relief to the people in the State. As the science of medicine has progressed by rapid strides during the past 20 or 30 years, it has become no longer possible to limit the curriculum of studies of the Sub-Assistant Surgeon class to four years. It is not possible to teach them all the important subjects within four years' time. Therefore the training must necessarily be inadequate. So, when these men go out into the world as medical men, they form very poor exponents of Western Medicine. It would therefore be more economical in the long run and more efficient, if we replace them with graduates whose curriculum of studies extends to 5 years or more.

The Ceylon Medical College has, during the past 50 years of its existence, been the back bone of its Medical department. It has not only supplied all the necessary recruits to the Medical department of Ceylon but has also supplied a good number of officers to the Straits Settlements.

If we are earnest in improving the medical organization of the State, the only course open to us is to start a Medical College at once. It will be the back bone of our Medical department and we shall never run short of recruits to our service. The best of our graduates could be sent to England for further training as is done in Ceylon. If my suggestion to replace the Sub-Assistant Surgeons with graduates in the course of time, is accepted by the Government, then we shall require all the graduates we turn out for the next 20 years or so, for our own medical service. The question of expenditure should not stand in the way of improving our medical service.

The State is urgently in need of a Medical College to train our men to take charge of our hospitals and dispensaries and the longer we delay in making up our minds, the worse it will be for the future welfare of the State. I have always contended in and out of season that economic procress of the State for which we have spent lakhs of rupees in the past will result in no benefit to the population if we neglect their health. Their very vitality is being undermined at present for want of timely medical relief and their earning capacity is thereby reduced to a minimum. Instances are not wanting in malnad districts where malaria and anchylostomiasis are playing havoc and are sapping the vitality of the inhabitants. The peoples of the State appreciate Western Medicine in preference to the indigenous systems of medicine as is evidenced by the large number of patients who seek medical advice in all the large and well-equipped hospitals of the State. If the people in the villages and taluks don't take kindly to Western Medicine, the fault lies on our part in not providing them with efficient men and well-equipped institutions.

The Mysore University Senate and the present Committee are unanimously in favour of a Medical College to be established in Bangalore. In the absence of a suitable building to start a Medical College on a large scale, we shall be able to make a small beginning with 20 students just now with the accommodation available at present in the temporary Medical School and in the Dissecting Room newly erected for the Sub-Assistant Surgeon's Class, with a little inconvenience. There will be no difficulty for the first two years. The first year class in Physics, Chemistry and Biology will be held in the Central College and Anatomy in the present Dissecting Room. In the second year, an additional class in Physiology can be held in the present Medical School, and the necessary equipment will not be much, considering the limited number of students proposed. In the meantime, a suitable building for a Medical College will have to be erected in the site already selected. The probable sum required for the building and equipment and the recurring expenditure are mentioned in the Committee's report. We would require a Professor in Physiology for the second year as we have no suitable men in our service to take up that subject. The subject for the 3rd, 4th and 5th years will necessarily have to be taught in the wards except Pathology and Bacteriology and Hygiene which require well-equipped laboratories. In this connection, I wish to point out the urgent need of an up-to-date Bacteriological Institute and Public Health Laboratory for the State, officered by qualified men, competent to make original investigations in tropical and other diseases peculiar to India. We have enough materials for such research works in our midst, but alas, we are sadly wanting in men to undertake the work. We have no experienced and competent men at present, we can prepare vaccines and sera for the treatment of cases requiring such therapy. We require a man with an established reputation for such work, to be placed in charge of the Bacteriological Institute. He would be of great help to the Medical College in the 3rd year.

In my report to the Senate, I have also made provision to train our students for the Degree of Bachelor of Hygiene. The Sanitary Department of the State requires expansion and the Medical College will be able to supply thoroughly trained men for the work in future years. During the last epidemic of Influenza, our Sanitary Department proved quite inadequate for the task. No effort was made by them to investigate into the causes of the epidemic. Their method of treating Cholera is quite antiquated. The number of sanitary officers in the department is not adequate to meet the requirements of the State, especially in times of severe epidemics. The Sanitary Department of Ceylon consists of a senior Sanitary Officer, one junior Sanitary Officer, two Assistant Sanitary Officers, 109 Sanitary Inspectors, a Sanitary Engineer, a Sanitary Superintendent and coolies. I mention these facts relating to the Sanitary Department as they are intimately connected with Medical Department and the medical training institutions present and prospective.

As the initial expenditure for the first two years is not a large sum, I earnestly request the Government to start a Medical College in July next. It takes 5 years to turn out a graduate and the sooner we start one the earlier we shall get our men for work. If a Medical College is started at once, there will be no need to re-organise the Medical School as the same Professors will be able to teach the Sub-Assistant Surgeon side by side with the M. B. Students as was done in Madras before the Royapuram Medical School was opened. Even now the Military Assistant Surgeons attend the same classes as the M. B. students. But if the Medical College is likely to be delayed, then I would urge that more scholarships be given to Sub-Assistant Surgeon students and the allowance to the lecturers be increased to Rs. 100 per mensem and that of the Principal to Rs. 150. The present allowance is very small considering the number of hours spent in preparing the subjects and in lecturing to the students. A building for the Medical School and a Hostel is urgently required. The students at present are undergoing very great inconvenience for the want of suitable hostel arrangements. They are obliged to board and lodge amidst unhealthy and undesirable surroundings and are unable to get suitable meals at proper time. A hostel for them is urgently needed. A suitable building could be rented near the Hospital on a moderate monthly rental, if permission is granted.

The Ayurvedic and Unani systems as practised at the present day do not form systems of medicine but a system of pharmacy. These systems of antiquity may have done some useful work in the past when the Western medicine was in its infancy, but they have long ceased to progress. The extreme conservatism of the Vaidyas to impart their knowledge to others had been the cause of retrogression. Many valuable drugs have been entirely lost to the world with the death of those successfully practising them at one time. But many of the drugs used by the Vaidyas of the present day, in a crude form, are used in the Western Medicine in the form of alkaloids and salts of the metals in smaller and effective doses. They have no books on Pathology, Physiology, Anatomy or Bacteriology. The surgery practised in ancient times was very crude. To attempt to revive these ancient systems is a profitless task associated with many difficulties and we shall be setting back the hands of the clock to some centuries behind. But it would be profitable if we should scientifically investigate the indigenous drugs of India by appointing well trained Pharmacologists in connection with the Medical College or the Indian Institute of Science at Bangalore.

The immediate requirements of the Department are as follows:—

(1) A new Maternity Hospital near Victoria Hospital, with modern conveniences and appliance and officered by a highly trained Lady Doctor. A ward for treating children may be attached to it.

(2) The same for Mysore.

(3) A Lunatic Asylum in a suitable locality to accommodate at least 300 patients.

(4) A well equipped Bacteriological Institute on modern lines with facility to manufacture vaccines and sera on a large scale for the use of the State and to conduct original research work. We have not a single competent man at present in the Sanitary Department to undertake this useful and all important work. We should import a man with an established reputation to conduct research work and offer him a decent salary. To depute a raw recruit to England to study advanced Bacteriology and Pathology and to expect him to conduct research work on his return with profit to himself and others, is a matter of doubtful expediency. One must have sufficient aptitude for research work. Therefore if we can get a man with an established reputation at the onset, we shall be able to train our men under his supervision. It takes years of patient study to acquire that amount of knowledge requisite for research work. A sojourn of a few months in England and the passing of the D. P. H. Examination do not confer the necessary training for this kind of work. I mention the urgent need of a Bacteriological Institute in this report, because we require the co-operation of a Bacteriologist for diagnosing some of our cases by the examination of blood and other excretions of the body and to prepare vaccines for suitable cases.

The present building is an old chattram not suited even for lunatics. A medical man qualified in mental diseases should be placed in charge of it. The present methods of placing any and every one in charge of the lunatics, because they are lunatics, is a retrograde method. It is not at all fair to these unfortunate patients. We should depute an officer to proceed to England to study mental and nervous diseases and on his return he should be placed in charge of this institution.

(5) The accommodation at the Victoria Hospital is quite inadequate to meet the evergrowing demands. Many urgent cases have to be admitted with great inconvenience to others and some times bordering on overcrowding, for want of accommodation. At present there is only accommodation for 140 patients. At least we require not less than 250 to 300 beds at an early date.

(6) An isolation ward to isolate all suspicious cases of fevers and to treat such infectious diseases as enteric fever, diphtheria, etc., has been a long felt want. At present these cases have to be treated side by side with other non-infectious cases which is not at all desirable and not fair to other patients.

We want a well qualified physician to take charge of the Medical Wards at the Victoria Hospital. The present method of placing inexperienced Assistant Surgeons in charge of the medical wards is not at all satisfactory and not in the interest of the premier hospital of the State. We are living in a progressive age and we should march with the times. A man with the diploma of the membership of the Royal College of Physicians (London) or M. D. London is desirable and dignifying to a hospital like the Victoria. All the physicians in Colombo possess these qualifications.

A Pathologist with the additional knowledge of advanced Bacteriology and Tropical disease is urgently required for Victoria Hospital. At present, the important work of the Pathologist is entrusted to Sub-Assistant Surgeons with the most elementary knowledge in the subject. Their diagnosis in many instances is unreliable. All well equipped hospitals, in the civilised world, are provided with able pathologists. He forms the back bone of the hospital and his help is eagerly sought after by the physicians and surgeons. An officer may be deputed to England to study these subjects. A similar officer is also required for the Mysore Hospital. A dental Surgeon and a specialist for ear, throat and nose diseases are also required for the Victoria Hospital as well as the Mysore Hospital. We may depute four of our men to study these subjects.

(7) The present Leper Asylum where these unfortunate patients are being treated is a dismal looking and a dingy building. There is hardly any equipment worth speaking.

A new building with accommodation for a large number of patients is required. The building should be outside the Infectious Disease Hospital. At present this Asylum is located within the Magadi Camp, where all forms of infectious diseases are treated. The lepers require better attention than what they are receiving now. The treatment adopted is very antiquated. The modern methods of treatment are not followed. The dressings used are dirty bandages and cotton soaked with morgosa oil. I noticed this unsatisfactory state of affairs when I once visited this hospital in October last.

(8) A home for incurables.—At present all incurables from the Victoria Hospital are either sent to the Magadi Camp or are taken away by the relatives of the patients to their homes. The unfortunate ones who have no home comforts prefer to go to Magadi Camp, but they don't find a bed of roses there for them. The condition in which I found them in October last was a pitiable one. These unfortunate patients go there to spend the rest of their days suffering from ailments beyond the reach of science and it is the duty of the City Municipality to provide a fairly comfortable home for them to make their life tolerable and happy. The people who talk of civic and social duties on public platforms may usefully direct their energies in this direction. It is the duty of the philanthropic public who speak of civic duties and social service to provide for the comfort of these miserable fellow citizens. In the absence of such help coming forth readily, the City Municipality or the Government may take up this subject.

In the main report we have mentioned the number of medical men required for expanding our department during the next five years. But they are meant for district work. In addition to that number, we require a few more for special work in Bangalore. I propose that we engage the services of two thoroughly qualified men with the requisite English degrees or diplomas to fill up the post of the Physician to the Victoria Hospital and the Director of the Bacteriological Institute. To send an officer to England to pass the M. R. C. P. (London) Examination will not only take lot of time and money but after all one may not be sure of the success of the candidate as the examination is a difficult one. It would be cheaper to engage one who has already passed it. One who has passed the M. R. C. P. Examination will also be competent to teach Physiology, in our Medical College when it is started.

For the Directorship of the Bacteriological Institute, we require an officer who has already established a reputation for research work.

Barring these two important posts, the rest may be filled up with our own men trained for a definite period in England. These are two Dentists, a Specialist in ear, throat and nose diseases, two Pathologists for Victoria Hospital and Mysore Hospital, and a Specialist in mental diseases for the Lunatic Asylum. The appointment of a highly qualified Lady Doctor for the Maternity Hospital when the present incumbent retires has also to be considered now. Such an officer will be urgently required for lecturing at the Medical College in midwifery and diseases of women and children. If we can equip our hospitals in Bangalore on these lines, we shall need no outside help for the future Medical College and we shall be able to run it on modern lines with great success.

In my opinion the pay of the Sub-Assistant Surgeons should be raised to the Madras standard, viz., Rs. 50 to 120. Otherwise it will be difficult to obtain recruits for our service. There is much discontentment and heart-burn among them and the sooner their pay is increased the better would it be for the department.

APPENDIX IV.

NOTE SEPARATELY FURNISHED BY MR. GULAM AHMED KALAMI, MEMBER OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO CONSIDER THE QUESTION OF MEDICAL RELIEF IN MYSORE.

Submitted through the Senior Surgeon.

I regret that sickness in my family and other inconveniences prevented me from attending the meeting convened by the Senior Surgeon on the 15th of April 1919 in pursuance of the Government Order No. 17729-35—Med. 70-18-1, dated the 18th February 1919. When I called on the Senior Surgeon subsequently to apologise for my unavoidable absence, I was rather surprised to hear that the committee sat not only on the 15th but also on the 16th April 1919 and that its report was prepared and submitted already. At my request however the Senior Surgeon was pleased to let me have a copy of the report together with the note he had placed before the committee when it met to consider the several points raised in the Government Order above named.

Hoping that even at this stage my observations and suggestions may be of some little use I venture to submit them for the consideration of the Government.

1. Adequacy or otherwise of the present organisation for medical relief in the State.

2. Necessity for increasing the number of hospitals and dispensaries in the outlying parts of the State.—I agree with the remarks and recommendations made by the committee in their report under the above heads. I may say in addition that until and unless our Sub-Assistant Surgeons are paid the same graded salaries as are allowed in the Madras Presidency, there is no chance of avoiding vacancies, keeping up sanctioned establishments and providing for the necessary reserve. The general tendency of the present times to increase the number and emoluments of highly paid officers and to overlook the oft-repeated grievances of the subordinate staff is proving itself highly detrimental to the interests of efficiency and good Government.

3. Feasibility of extending medical aid through Ayurvedic and Unani institutions.—In view of the past experience and the well known popularity in the country of both the Ayurvedic and Unani systems of medical treatment, they should be whole-heartedly and effectively encouraged and supported by the Government. No matter what the opinions of the European Surgeons and Physicians are in the matter of entertaining or not entertaining any scheme for the furthering of our indigenous systems, I think it is the duty of an Indian State like Mysore to make all possible efforts to extend medical aid in the province through Ayurvedic and Unani Institutions also.

To increase, as it is necessary, the number of qualified Vaidyans and Hakims practising in the State, Government may be pleased :—

(1) To take advantage of all the decently managed and fairly well equipped Colleges and schools that now exsit in India ;

(2) To gradually increase the number and value of the scholarships or stipends now given to the students of these systems of treatment ;

(3) To select an increasing number annually of promising Vaids and Hakims resident and practising in the various parts of the province and send them over to approved Ayurvedic and Unani Colleges in India for education and training, giving them liberal stipends for their maintenance during the period ;

(4) To select a number also of fairly well educated young Mysoreans and grant them tempting scholarships to join such institutions and get themselves fully qualified and certificated.

Note.—The above scholarship-holders and certificated Vaids and Hakims should be bound by agreements to settle down in the State and start their practice. They must also agree to serve the Government for a fixed period if called upon to do so. When so employed they should be eligible to get the same salaries, grade, and allowances as are given in the State to the Sub-Assistant Surgeons.

Until the number of properly trained, qualified and certificated Vaidyans and Hakims becomes appreciably large, even experienced and popular Vaidyans and Hakims now enjoying extensive private practice in the various parts of the State and commanding public confidence should be encouraged and enabled by the Government to further widen the scope of their usefulness by instituting a grant-in-aid system on the lines now in vogue in the Educational Department. This grant-in-aid system will keep them under official discipline and supervision and bring them into direct contact with the Medical Officers of the Government and enable them also to continue their good work under healthy and inspiring influences.

Before the Government proceeds to reorganise and improve the efficiency of the existing Ayurvedic and Unani Hospitals or Schools maintained by the Government or the Local Boards or the Municipalities, I would strongly recommend the selection and deputation of several willing and suitably educated Sub-Assistant Surgeons in the State service of not less than five years standing to join approved Ayurvedic and Unani Colleges in India and study the respective systems thoroughly. This arrangement will prove a great source of improvement of the indigenous system of Medical aid and also become the means of wholesome encouragement to the Ayurvedic and Unani Institutions which are now depending for their support mainly on public enterprise. Such Sub-Assistant Surgeons, when they return to State service after their training in the Ayurvedic and Unani Colleges, may very well be employed to be in charge of the State Ayurvedic and Unani Dispensaries, or may be entrusted with the duty of inspecting the Grant-in-aid institutions and extending the system of State aid to Vaidyans and Hakims who have an appreciable amount of private practice.

Selected Medical Officers of higher grades and qualifications also may be deputed to undergo the same kind of training and eventually undertake research work in a scientific manner.

The ever increasing usefulness and popularity of the Ayurvedic and Unani Dispensaries located at Mysore City and maintained probably by the Municipality cannot be disputed. The Government will do well to take over these Hospitals and improve their condition with a view to make them model Institutions. If this is not considered advisable the Municipality of Mysore may be given a special grant for the better equipment and general improvement of these hospitals. It is also necessary that such Ayurvedic and Unani Dispensaries should be immediately established in the City of Bangalore either by the Government or the Municipality.

I need not emphasise the fact that the total cost of the above schemes for the extension of the medical aid through indigenous institutions will be very small compared with the amount of good that is expected to accrue thereby to the people of Mysore.

4. Improving female medical relief throughout the State.—I agree with the remarks and recommendations made by the Committee.

5. (i) Advisability of starting a Medical Faculty.—(ii) Re-organisation of the Medical School.—I am not sure that it is necessary to start "at a very early date" a Medical Faculty in connection with the Mysore University. What we urgently need is the education and training of an adequate number of Sub-Assistant Surgeons. I cannot therefore see why the re-organisation and improvement of the medical school should not precede the starting of the Faculty of Medicine. The annual cost per head of educating the required number of Mysore students in any of the medical Colleges in India and for the matter of that even in the Universities of Europe may not exceed the cost per head which will accrue in the event of our starting a Medical Faculty in Mysore. Over production by our University of the higher grade of medical men may benefit individuals hankering after city life both inside and outside the Mysore State, but it is not the immediate want of the masses in our province. I am not against the addition of the Faculty of medicine to our University at its proper time; it is just now a question of ways and means.

(iii) A programme for the next five years.

Without prejudice to my remarks under the heads i and ii I agree with the programme of improvements suggested for the next five years.

7. Immediate requirements of the department.

I fully concur with the views expressed and suggestions made by the committee under this head.

8. The borrower shall be responsible for the value of the books lent out to him, if they have been lost or mislaid or otherwise cannot be returned to the Library after such recall. The presence of the voucher with the Librarian shall be considered sufficient proof of such non-return.

9. An up-to-date catalogue of the books in the Library will be maintained for the reference of visitors. A printed copy of the catalogue will be supplied to all the Officers of the General and Revenue Secretariat and to such others referred to in Rule 2, as may ask for the same. ORDER No. R. 15688-89—L. S. 6-18-11, DATED BANGALORE, THE 6TH JUNE 1919.

The constitution of the Revenue Survey Department differs markedly from the other Departments in that the strength of the different establishments and the scale of pay of the members thereof have not hither to been fixed by Government, both being variable at the discretion of the Survey Superintendent. The cost of the subordinate ministerial and field establishments is met from an annual lump sum provision, and so far as these establishments are concerned the Department is run on lines which cannot be considered as over liberal. For instance, it is a rule that any kind of leave in the field season entails forfeiture of pay. Though nominally there is a time scale the Superintendent is not bound to, and often does not give, promotions as they fall due by lapse of time.

There is always a paucity of qualified hands in the Department which necessitates the retention of a large number of superannuated officials. The defective system of recruitment and promotions in the Survey Department has led, in a certain measure, to its inability to keep up to the programme of resettlement, drawn up by Col. Grant before his retirement, with the result that settlement is overdue in not less than 25 taluks.

2. Repeated representations having been received from the officials of the Department for the improvement of their pay and prospects Government called for proposals in the matter from the Survey Superintendent in December 1917. After considerable discussion and correspondence, he has now formulated (in his letters Nos. 63 and 61, dated 13th September 1918 and 25th September 1918) a definite scheme and placed the same before the Government with the necessary proposition statements.

3. Government have carefully considered these proposals as also the various representations made by the officials of the several establishments from time to time and are pleased to sanction a revision of the Department in the manner and to the extent noted below :—

4. The proposition statement relating to the Office and Field Establishments sent up by the Survey Superintendent involves a net annual increase of Rs. 31,878 over the present sanctioned limit of expenditure, viz., Rs. 1,20,000 for Establishments. The actuals for establishment charges for the past three years come, however, to Rs. 80,516 on an average. As it is found necessary to provide for an adequate staff of Field Establishment to expedite the heavy arrears of resurvey and resettlement work in the State and to improve their pay and prospects, as well as the office establishment, Government are prepared to sanction an expenditure of Rs. 1,45,000 as against the total normal expenditure of Rs. 80,516 as explained above, to be distributed as follows :—

| | Rs. |
|---|---|
| Permanent Establishment ... ... ... | 1,00,000 |
| Temporary Establishment ... ... ... | 45,000 |

5. The further details of the re-organisation regarding the Supervising Officers, as sanctioned by Government are given below :—

The Superior staff of officers will consist of—

1 Superintendent with the status of a Deputy Commissioner.
1 Deputy Superintendent.
5 Assistant Superintendents.
1 Do (temporary).

These will draw their present pay pending the re-organisation of the Civil Service, which is under consideration of Government.

2 Sub-Assistant Superintendents on Rs. 150—25/2—200.
2 Do do (temporary).
1 Do do for Superintendent's Office (temporary).
1 Do do for charge of the Headquarter and Record Office.
1 Do do for Inam and miscellaneous work.
1 Do do (temporary) for Field Relief work.

The Survey Superintendent and Deputy Superintendent will draw their tentage and fixed travelling allowances as before.

The Field Officers will draw their tentage as before and fixed travelling allowance at the following rates :—

Rs. 100 per mensem when in Camp.
" 30 per mensem when at Headquarters.

Sub-Assistant Superintendent doing duty as the Office Assistant or the Officer in charge of the Headquarters office will, if he is not an officer of the Assistant Commissioner's grade, draw a local allowance of Rs. 30 per mensem.

6. Subordinate Establishment.—Government consider that there is no justification for the practice hitherto in vogue, of making a lump sum budget grant to be worked out under the sole discretion of the Superintendent and are therefore pleased to direct that the number of hands in each office and establishments and the scale of pay of the several members thereof, should be fixed and that the same should not be altered without the previous sanction of Government.

7. In view of the fact that the Department is a special one, the ministerial staff of which can find no opening except in the offices they work in, Government consider it necessary to treat their cases somewhat liberally and are accordingly pleased to direct that the minimum salary of a fully qualified Survey Official should not be less than Rs. 20 per mensem.

8. The Survey Superintendent is requested to propose in consultation with the Comptroller, suitable amendments to the existing rules regarding the grant of leave, etc., to the officials of the Department.

9. The officials of the several Field Establishments will be given Railway fare and mileage according to the Mysore Service Regulations for the first outward and last return journeys and also for the journeys from one taluk to another in the same Field season. In addition to this they will draw during the Field Season, permanent monthly allowances as noted below :—

|---|---|
| 1. Surveyors of— | |
| (a) Classing Establishments ... | Rs. 20 per mensem. |
| (b) Measuring Establishments ... | " 15 " |
| 2. Classers ... | " 7 " |
| 3. Karkoons ... | " 5 " |
| 4. Measurers ... | " 5 " |
| 5. Peons ... | " 2 " |

These allowances will be increased by 50 per cent when the establishments are working in the malnad.

10. The Shiknars (or learners) should be started on Rs. 7 per mensem and given Rs. 10 during training and then Rs. 12—15 as probationary measurers until they are eventually confirmed on Rs. 20.

11. The present system of granting preparation and journey time (Vate-kade) will be abolished and the period required for the journey will be allowed according to the provisions of the Mysore Service Regulations.

12. Officers in charge of Field Establishments may during the Field Season grant to their subordinates advances not exceeding one month's pay, the same being recovered in three equal monthly instalments.

13. The existing practice of cutting men's pay for "Harkath" (i.e., days on which no work is done on account of non-co-operation of villagers, inclemency of weather, etc.,) to the abolition of which the Survey Superintendent is strongly opposed, will remain unaltered.

14. As the work of resettlement operations will decrease in a few years, if the programme now laid down is carried out, Government consider that it is necessary to provide for the gradual reduction of the Survey Establishments and its final absorption into the Land Records Department. As practically all the hands in the Department are however now holding substantive appointments, nothing tangible in the way of reduction of establishments is possible at present. The Survey Superintendent is accordingly requested to submit for the orders of Government a revised proposition statement dividing the existing permanent appointments into two divisions, viz., two-thirds permanent and one-third supernumerary. No further substantive appointments should be made until all the supernumeraries are absorbed into the regular cadre. The sanctioned strength of the Department may however be maintained by the entertainment of the required number of men on a temporary basis. The establishment to be retained on a permanent basis should be so constituted that it will in itself be a complete self-contained unit when supernumerary (or temporary) hands are done away with.

15. Government consider that it is unnecessary to sanction progressive rates of pay for the subordinate establishments in violation of the principle recently laid down, of having only "fixed rates of pay." The proposition statement called for in the preceeding para should therefore be prepared with fixed rates of pay, except in the case of only such persons as cannot find any opening outside their posts or office.

16. As it has been decided to fix permanently the strength and scale of pay of the several establishments, Government consider that the separate establishment of the Deputy Superintendent who is practically the audit officer of the Department, should be abolished and the work transferred to the Superintendent's Office for which the following extra hands are sanctioned :—

I. English Branch—
1 Clerk on Rs. 35
1 Clerk on Rs. 25

II. Vernacular Branch—
1 Sheristedar on Rs. 60—$\frac{10}{3}$—80

III. Accounts Branch— Rs.
1 Head Accountant on 60
1 Accountant on 40
1 Do on 30
1 Do on 25

IV. Menials—
3 Peons on Rs. 10, 9 and 8 each.

17. The Superintendent is requested to submit for the approval of Government a statement showing the redistribution of the hands and arrangements made for the amalgamation of the Headquarters and Record and Deputy Superintendent's Offices with his own office.

18. Necessary additional provision will be made for the establishment charges of the Department in the ensuing year's budget.

19. The re-organisation will take effect from 1st January 1919.

Government Order No. R. 7699-708—Ft. 13-05-17, dated 25th March 1909, passing orders on the subject of the removal of sandal trees from occupied lands and the payment of bonuses to the occupants thereof.

2. Letter No. 25, dated the 1st July 1918, from the Conservator of Forests in Mysore, enquiring whether the rules for the grant of bonuses published with the order read above, are applicable to trees removed from coffee lands also.

ORDER No. R. 16022-32—FT. 17-18-2, DATED 13TH JUNE 1919.

The Revenue Commissioner, who was consulted in the matter, is of opinion that the Rules of 1909 are applicable to coffee lands in the same way as to other occupied lands, and that the grant of the bonus will offer an inducement for the proper preservation of the sandal trees in coffee lands as in the case of other occupied lands. Government agree in the above view and accordingly direct that the said rules be made applicable to the coffee lands also.

Sale of Burma rice through Government Depots at concession rates to the poor.

READ—

The marginally noted Government Orders sanctioning a scheme for distribution of ragi and rice to the poor in the Bangalore and Mysore Cities and other District Headquarter towns at concession rates.

G. O. No. G. 20748-50—P. P. 134-18-428, dated 17th March 1919.
G. O. No. G. 20895-904—P. P. 134-18-438, dated 19th March 1919.

ORDER No. G. 28099-112—P. P. 134-18-622, DATED 18TH JUNE 1919.

In order to meet the acute situation in regard to foodstuffs in urban areas, a scheme for distribution of ragi and rice under State and Municipal Agency was authorised in the Government Orders read above and large quantities of ragi were commandeered in the Bangalore and Mysore Districts for the purpose. Now that the situation has appreciably eased and the seasonal prospects have brightened and also the stocks of ragi in the State have been largely depleted, Government consider it unnecessary to commandeer ragi any further and accordingly direct that the sale of ragi through Government depôts be discontinued both in the Bangalore and Mysore Cities and also in other places, with effect from 20th June 1919. The Food Controller will however arrange to keep some reserve stock of ragi to meet any sudden and unexpected situation that may arise.

2. The arrangements to sell Burma rice at the Government Depôts will continue till the end of August 1919. The sale at concession rate sanctioned in the Government Orders read above will however be abolished. Cost price should be fixed for each consignment and sale effected according to such price.

Reduction of Establishment for the Inam Department.

READ—

Government Order No. R. 4890-2—L. R. 570-14-4, dated 19th November 1915, sanctioning a reduction of establishment for the Inam Department and requesting the Inam Superintendent to submit proposals within four years from the date of the order, for the amalgamation of the Inam Department with the Survey, and if possible, also a futher reduction of establishment.

2. Letter No. 82, dated 13th March 1919, from the Superintendent of Inam Settlements in Mysore, stating with reference to the Government Order read above, that the Comptroller has budgetted expenses for the Department only up to the 15th December 1919 and made no provision in the budget of the Survey Department for the continuance of Inam work and submitting therefore his proposals in the matter of the amalgamation of the Inam Department with the Survey.

The Inam Superintendent proposes the continuance of the reduced establishment, as sanctioned in the Government Order read above and the incorporation of the same, on the existing scale, as noted in the margin, along with the single karkoon in the Survey Department who looks to the excess Tharav and Miscellaneous work connected with the Survey and Settlement of Inam villages, into the Inam Branch of the Survey Office. The Inam Superintendent further suggests that the services of the clerk on Rs. 25 appointed temporarily for 4 years, for the special purpose of correcting 22 Quit-rent Registers, may be dispensed with, with effect from 1st July 1919, and that the present Manager may be continued on the pay which he is drawing now (Rs. 100 plus Rs. 30 personal allowance).

| Do .. | .. 30 |
| 1 Dafterband | ... 10 |
| 1 Daffedar .. | .. 10 |
| 2 Peons .. | (8) and (7) |

2. The proposals of the Inam Superintendent are approved.

3. A Manager on Rs. 100 plus 30 personal allowance is unnecessary for the small establishment which will in future, be a branch of the Survey Office. The Superintendent should submit proposals for providing a place to the Manager in the Survey Office to look after some other branches of his office, in addition to the Inam Branch.

4. It has not been reported whether the work referred to in paragraph 1 of Government Order of 19th November 1915, has been completed as contemplated at the time. A report on the point should be submitted.

5. The Survey Superintendent is requested to incorporate the changes sanctioned above, with the proposals called for in Government Order No. R. 15688-89—L. S. 6-18-11, dated 6th June 1919, sanctioning the re-organisation of the Survey Department.

Period prescribed for filing an appeal.

ORDER No. R. 16171-80—L. R. 145-18-1, DATED 18TH JUNE 1919.

Section 211 of the Mysore Land Revenue Code provides that, in computing the period prescribed for filing an appeal, "the time required to prepare a copy of the decision or order appealed against shall be excluded." Under this provision what has to be excluded is, clearly, the time required by the Officer to whom the application is made for preparing the copy applied for, and not also the time allowed by the applicant to elapse before taking delivery of the copy prepared. There is, however, reason to think that the distinction is not always clearly understood, with the result that sometimes the whole of the period between the date of application and the date on which the party chooses to take delivery is allowed in his favour in contravention of the provision of law quoted.

2. Under the practice prevailing in the Civil Courts a person applying for a copy of a document is informed, as soon as possible after the requisite copying sheets are furnished, of the probable date on which the copy will be ready for delivery; and such date as well as the date on which the applicant actually appears and takes delivery is invariably endorsed on the copy.

3. Government consider that a similar procedure may advantageously be adopted in the case of copies required to be filed before appellate authorities under the Land Revenue Code. They are therefore pleased, under Section 233 of the said Code, to prescribe the following Rule, which shall be inserted in Chapter XVII of the Land Revenue Rules as Rule 111 A:—

"111 A. As soon as possible after an application for a copy of a document is accepted, the chief ministerial officer or other person authorised in this behalf shall intimate to the applicant in person or by post the probable date on which the copy will be ready for delivery. If the copy is not actually ready on such date, a further intimation shall be given in like manner of the date on which the copy is expected to be ready.

"The whole of the period between the date of application and the date finally intimated as aforesaid both of which dates shall be endorsed in words on the copy furnished shall be taken for the purpose of Section 211 of the "Land Revenue Code as the time required to prepare the copy."

2. Government Order No. Fl. 2047-96—G. F. 5-18-29, dated the 23rd October 1918, sanctioning rules for the grant of compensation for dearness irrespective of the price of any particular grain or commodity in the two Cities of Bangalore and Mysore.

ORDER No. Fl. 6781-830—G. F. 5-18-70, DATED 23RD JUNE 1919.

Representative Assembly.

READ AGAIN—

Government Order Camp No. 8-58—G. M. 610-17-1, dated 22nd April 1918, introducing certain changes in the rules relating to the constitution and conduct of business of the Representative Assembly.

Government Order No. 15452-60—R. A. 23-18-3, dated 25th January 1919, passing orders on the report of the Special Committee, re "Work of the Representative Assembly and duties of its members."

Order No. G. 28217-67—R. A. 40-18-1, dated 20th June 1919.

In the first of the Government Orders read above, Government accepted some of the recommendations of the Special Committee of the Representative Assembly constituted in 1917, to consider the question of the reforms required in the constitution and working of the Assembly, and in the second, further orders were issued on the same subject on the recommendations of a second Committee of the Assembly. Government have since had under consideration the desirability of introducing further reforms in the Assembly and have taken the opinion of the members of the Assembly on some of these matters. The questions under consideration related mainly to the desirability or otherwise of reducing the numerical strength of the Assembly and the redistribution of seats therein, by a readjustment of the representation given to Municipalities and a more judicious allotment of places among associations and public bodies representing special interests so as to give representation to interests not hitherto directly represented in the Assembly.

The question of reducing the membership of the Assembly was considered by the first of the two Special Committees referred to above. The Committee was of opinion that any such reduction was unnecessary. For the present, Government accept this opinion. They consider, however, that the seats in the Assembly should be redistributed so as to give a slightly better representation to Municipalities in view of recent developments in Local Self-Government, and so as to grant representation to certain interests not so far represented in the Assembly directly. The number of members returnable by each taluk or sub-taluk, which was fixed so long back as the year 1894, also seems to require revision in the light of existing conditions. With this object it is proposed to adopt for purposes of allocation of seats to the taluks, a classification of the taluks of the State into three classes (as in Appendix A), which has been made mainly on the basis of the land revenue demand and secondarily on the ground of area, population and other considerations, and to give three seats to each first class taluk, two to each second class taluk or third class taluk and one seat to each sub-taluk. The total number of members representing taluks will thus be 163 as shown in the margin. The number may rise to 170 when the scheme for the abolition of sub-taluks comes into effect.

| 18 First class taluks ... | 54 |
| 26 Second " ... | 52 |
| 24 Third " ... | 48 |
| 9 Sub-Taluks ... | 9 |
| Total ... | 163 |

The list of Municipalities eligible to return members to the Assembly also needs revision. In 1891, all Municipalities in the State were allowed representation and as this resulted in the over-representation of Municipalities, one-ninth of the population returning 115 members or one-third of the total number of members, 78 Municipalities with a population of less than 5,000 were deprived of their privilege in 1894. The present list of Municipalities was prepared on the basis of the population statistics of 1901 and includes 27 Municipalities returning 42 members. In view of the changes which have since taken place in the population and importance of several Municipal towns it is necessary to revise this list. It is also necessary to give a more extended representation to Municipalities than they now possess. It is proposed to adopt for this purpose the classification of Municipalities into City, Town and Minor, as made in the Municipal Regulation (as in lists given in Appendix B), each City Municipality returning 4 members, each Town Municipality (with the exception of the 5* shown in the margin, which on account of their larger population and importance will send two members each) returning one member and also minor Municipalities with a population of 3,000 or more one member each. Under these proposals, the total number of members returnable by Municipalities will be 71 as shown in the margin.

*(Kolar, Tumkur, Shimoga, Channapatna and Davangere).

| | Members. |
|---|---|
| 2 City Municipalities. | 8 |
| 29 Town {5—10, 24—24} ... | 34 |
| 29 Minor (Population 3,000 or over) ... | 29 |
| | 71 |

The District Boards will, as usual, depute 2 members each and the Kolar Gold Fields Sanitary Board will also be permitted to depute 2 members.

The re-adjustment of seats in the Assembly as above makes room for the representation in it of certain interests not so far represented, such as education, trade, industries, etc. Government have considered the advisability of forming special electorates for these interests but consider such a step undesirable in view of the practical difficulties that would attend the formation of such electorates. They are of opinion that the object in view may be achieved by a more judicious application of the rule which provides for the representation of public associations. There are at present 22 associations of the kind which may be classified as under:—

(1) Associations representing communities.

|---|---|
| Mahomedans | 6 |
| Vokkaligars | 1 |
| Lingayats | 1 |
| Vaisyas | 1 |
| Eurasians and Anglo-Indians | 1 |
| Total | 10 |

(2) Associations representing special interests.

| Law | 2 |
| Planters | 4 |
| Mining Board | 1 |
| Other Industrial, Commercial and Agricultural interests | 3 |
| Total | 10 |

(3) General

| Total | 22 |

In order to provide for the representation of the special interests referred to above the privilege of deputing a member to the Assembly may be given to the following public bodies and institutions:—

| | Members |
|---|---|
| Senate of the Mysore University | 2 |
| Mysore Chamber of Commerce | 2 |

The Kolar Gold Fields Mining Board already possesses the privilege of returning a member to the Assembly.

In the case of the associations already admitted to this privilege, it is necessary to enquire how many are doing real and active work and are still qualified under the rules. Government also wish to retain power to group together associations representing identical or allied interests. The Deputy Commissioners will enquire and report at once on the condition, membership and work of the several associations in question. On receipt of this report, the question of continuing to these associations the privilege of electing Representative Assembly members will be settled according to the circumstances of each case. The enquiry suggested above with regard to the condition of each association must be repeated at the time of every Triennial Election so as to ensure that the privilege is exercised by associations doing real public work. The total number of members representing associations in the Assembly will generally not exceed 25. In this connection Government observe that the rules at present require a quorum of 75 per cent of the qualified members of an association at a meeting held to elect the representative of such association. It has been often brought to the notice of Government that this quorum is too high and works as a hardship. Government consider that there is force in the representation and are pleased to direct that the quorum for such meeting be hereafter 50 per cent instead of 75 per cent as till now.

The strength of the Assembly as thus reconstituted will be;—

|---|---|---|
| (1) Elected Representatives from the Taluks and Sub-Taluks. | 163 or eventually 170. |
| (2) Deputed by Municipalities | 71 |
| (3) Eight District Boards and Kolar Gold Fields Sanitary Board. | 18 |
| (4) Deputed by the 22 associations already given the privilege. | *22 or eventually 25. |
| (5) Returned by the additional bodies representing special interests now proposed to be given the special privilege. | 4 |
| Total | 278 or eventually 288. |

*This number may perhaps be reduced after the result of the proposed enquiry into the present condition of these associations is known.

The necessary changes in the rules are shown in the annexure to this order.

ANNEXURE.

Rule 4 will read as follows:—

The number of members elected for a taluk or sub-taluk shall not exceed three in the case of those shown in class I, in Schedule B, two in the case of those shown in classes II and III, in the same Schedule and one in the case of a sub-taluk.

Rule 8 (a) will read as follows:—

Each Local Fund Board may depute two of its members to the Assembly.

The Kolar Gold Fields Sanitary Board may also depute two members.

Rule 8 (c) will read as follows:—

The Senate of the Mysore University may depute two members and the Mysore Chamber of Commerce two members.

An association representing approved public interests may depute a member to the Assembly, provided that such association contains at least 100 members who are not Government servants and that 50 per cent of such members are present at the meeting held for the purpose of nominating a member.

Government may group together for the purpose of electing a member to the Representative Assembly two or more associations with the same or allied interests.

NOTE.—Government may for special reasons allow an association containing less than the above minimum number of members to depute a member to the Assembly.

Rule 27 will read as follows:—

|---|---|
| (1) Elected Representatives from the taluks and sub-taluks | 163 or 170 eventually. |
| (2) Deputed by Municipalities | 71 |
| (3) 8 District Boards and Kolar Gold Fields Sanitary Board | 18 |
| (4) Deputed by the 22 Associations already given the privilege | 22 or 25 eventually. |
| (5) Returned by the additional bodies representing special interests, now proposed to be given the special privilege | 4 |
| Total | 278 or 288 eventually. |

*This number may perhaps be reduced after the result of the proposed enquiry into the present condition of these associations is known.

Providing adequate grazing facilities.

Order No. R. 16561—Ft. 226-1, dated 24th June 1919.

The following official paper is published for general information:—

The Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore have carefully considered the question of providing adequate grazing facilities for the agricultural stock in the State, in regard to which several representations are made from time to time in the Representative Assembly, and are now pleased to indicate the lines in which systematic action may be taken in this matter in the following resolution which will be taken up for final disposal in October 1919.

Though the grazing problem is not, perhaps so acute in Mysore as it is in some other parts of India, there are several localities where pasturage is insufficient. The land available for grazing has been much curtailed by the expansion of cultivation and the formation of State Forests. Concurrently with this reduction of pasture lands there has been a steady increase of agricultural stock in the State, and the pressure on the available pasturage is being increasingly felt. It is necessary that some measures should be taken to deal with the question before it assumes serious proportions.

2. The grazing lands available to the people are:—

(1) Gomal lands.
(2) Other kharab lands and assessed waste,
(3) State Forests,
(4) Amrut Mahal kavals, and
(5) Private pasture lands.

3. The published reports and statistics do not give an accurate idea of the extent of the gomal land set apart for free communal use in villages. In 1885, the extent was estimated to be 30,69,438 acres. Judging from the tenor of Government letter No. 5877, dated the 22nd February 1869, to the Superintendent, Ashtagram Division (printed on pages 284 and 285 of the Revenue Manual), it would seem that the grazing requirements of the rural population were liberally provided for during the British Administration of the Province. The standard adopted was 30 acres of good pasture, 60 acres of middling and 100 acres of inferior land for every 100 head of cattle. The actual allotment in a large number of villages seems to have been in excess of the standard, as is evident from the number of darkhasts received for superfluous gomal lands. In some cases, of course, the gomal has become insufficient owing to increase of stock and other causes; but this is by no means a general complaint.

4. The real difficulty lies not in the insufficiency of the gomal land but in its poor quality. The soil is in many cases rocky and infertile and the neglect attendant on the system of communal grazing has made it bare and barren. The gomal is everybody's property and therefore no one's care. The land is not fenced, ploughed, manured or sown. The droppings of the cattle which might fertilise the land are eagerly removed; and over-grazing is the rule. Everywhere, considering their extent, the gomal lands afford inadequate pasturage. The only means of improving the lands is to introduce some kind of regulation. Portions have to be closed against grazing for defined periods, so as to allow the grass to grow and the number of cattle should be limited to the grazing capacity of the land. The Village Forest Scheme was intended to provide these requisites but it has not so far produced any practical results. From the latest review on the working of these forests, it is seen that only 65 forests have been notified, and that in less than half of these cases, Panchayets have been actually formed. As to the actual work done, the reports do not show how far the Panchayets have carried out the various duties laid upon them in the way of protection, closure, limitation of stock and growth of fodder crops.

5. It must be irksome to villagers to give up their old and easy ways and submit to the discipline and self-restraint that the Village Forest Scheme imposes. But they must be educated to appreciate its advantages. Further, great care is necessary in the formation of Panchayets and the location of village forests. The Eastern Districts, perhaps, require a different treatment from the Western Districts, and cattle-breeding tracts require more than ordinary attention. If the scheme is to develop and realise even a fraction of its admitted potentialities, it is necessary that the initial work should be carefully carried out in all these respects. For this purpose, it may be desirable, as in Madras, to appoint a Special Officer for a short time to go round the districts and help the Deputy Commissioners in selecting villages for the formation of village forests and in popularising the scheme.

6. Other kharab land and assessed waste.—Assessed waste lands in villages and miscellaneous kharab lands, such as tank-beds and road-margins, form a substantial addition to the gomal lands in providing pasturage for village cattle. Grazing in these lands was allowed free until the year 1865-66, when the practice of sanctioning the pasturage annually was introduced in all surveyed taluks. This system led to complaint, as speculators and outsiders were enabled to outbid the local villagers whose interests were thereby prejudiced. In 1884, therefore, a change of system was introduced by which the inhabitants of each village were allowed the option of purchasing the hulbanni for a fixed lumpsum payment equivalent to the average revenue derived during the previous three years and the right of pasture was auctioned only if the villagers declined to avail themselves of the privilege. The lumpsum fixed on the village was divided among the several raiyats in proportion to the number of cattle owned by them.

The approximate extent of hulbanni lands and the revenue realised from the same are shown in the following table :—

The hulbanni revenue being assessed upon the average realisations of the previous years has always shown a tendency to remain stationary or even decline. At present, it works out to about 1⅓ annas per acre. The system is not only unremunerative but encourages over-grazing and the most reckless use of the pastures. Each raiyat is interested in getting as much as he can for his cattle and grazing is frequently a race for the first blades of grass that appear. There are no restrictions either on the number or kind of cattle to be grazed.

The remedy for the present defective arrangement is not easy. The raiyats may contend that, owing to the lease system, there is still speculation and hardship on poor raiyats, and that Government should abolish hulbanni fees. On the other hand, even the revenue of Rs. 75,000 realised in 1884 cannot be lightly thrown away. This is a question which should be left to village government to settle and, if Village Panchayets and Village Improvement Committees come forward to manage their own affairs in regard to grazing requirements and suitable control over all lands fit for grazing, Government will be prepared to hand over these lands to village management and half the revenue to village local bodies on certain conditions somewhat as follows:—

1. Foreign cattle, goats and sheep to be excluded.

2. Grazing to be restricted to the prescribed number of cattle belonging to the village.

3. Portion of the hulbanni revenue credited to village local bodies should be utilised for improvement of the grazing lands, reservation and watch.

8. As observed in the monograph on Mysore Cattle by the late Mr. A. Krishnaswami Iyengar: "In the earlier days of Mysore Forest Administration, the almost unrestrained immunities which the raiyats had either openly or clandestinely been enjoying were virtually withdrawn and this measure had a prejudicial effect on cattle-breeding. The principle that the cattle wealth of the country is far too important to be thus dealt with, has in recent years been recognised and restrictions have been relaxed, cattle being allowed to graze in many Government forests or parts thereof upon the payment of a fee of two to four annas per head. It is not now unusual for cattle-owners in the plains to send their herds to distant Government forests for grazing from July to December or January, when they have to be withdrawn on account of the heat, diminished pasture and scarcity of water, but chiefly owing to fire protection measures."

9. Since the above remarks were written (1895), the practice of sending cattle for grazing to State Forests has grown in vogue. The following statement shows that while the area of State Forests has increased 2½ times, the number of cattle grazed therein has increased nearly sevenfold:—

| District | 1895-96 | | | 1917 | | |

10. The present system of grazing in State Forests is thus described in Conservator's letter No. 1626, dated the 11th August 1916:—

"Levy of license fees.—Grazing by licenses is generally resorted to in almost all the State Forests. Horned cattle and sheep are admitted to the forests for six months in the year between June and December on payment of a fixed scale of fees as noted in the margin. Concession rates at half the license fees and sometimes free grazing is permitted in respect of cattle belonging to villages which have contributed lands for the formation of State Forests, or which do not possess sufficient grazing areas according to the decisions recorded at the time of the settlement of the forests concerned.

| | Ordinary Licenses | Nomad Licenses |
|---|---|---|
| Cows and Oxen ... | 4 annas per head | 6 annas per head |
| Buffaloes ... | 8 do | 12 do |
| Sheep ... | 1½ do | 2 do |

"Lumpsum levy of grazing fees.—This method is largely adopted in the Chitaldrug District and to a small extent, in others. The cattle in the villages in the neighbourhood of State Forests are enumerated and a lumpsum fee fixed for each village calculated at full license rates for half the number of cattle in the village, the amount so fixed being subject to revision periodically at the discretion of the Forest authorities. Villagers who are averse to take advantage of this concession are at liberty to graze their cattle in the State Forests on payment of the usual license fees.

"Lease of Plantations and sale of grass crop.—In some plantations declared as State Forests, grass is leased out. The lessees in their turn, sublet the grazing at rates fixed by them per head of cattle. The sale and harvesting of grass crop is usually resorted to in the plantations by the local and British Military authorities."

11. Though grazing in State Forests is becoming common, we have not yet evolved a well considered grazing policy. Cattle are regarded as unwelcome visitors in State Forests and the question of grazing has been hitherto considered solely with reference to the fees that might be demanded. But the financial aspect of the question is not the most important. In recent years, various attempts have been made in different parts of India to improve grazing facilities in State forests, to remove the interference and exactions of petty subordinates and to enlist the help of the rural population in the protection of State Forests where grazing is permitted. It is high time that similar measures were initiated here.

12. Kancha system.—What is known as the Kancha system has been tried with success in certain districts of the Madras Presidency and is reported to be growing in popularity. Under this system, open portions of forests are divided into grazing blocks or Kanchas which are sold by auction subject to an upset price generally of 4 annas per acre. The Kanchas are closed to grazing for a defined part of the year (July to end of October) and the number of cattle to be admitted is limited to the grazing capacity of the block, i. e., one cow unit for every two acres and one sheep for every acre. The Kanchadar is held responsible for the protection of tree growth, etc., in the Kanchas and in the event of his infringing any of the conditions, his lease is liable to be cancelled and he may be required to pay the compensation that may be fixed for any damage that he may have caused or permitted. Under this system the growth of grass is improved and the lands better protected, while the interference of subordinates is eliminated. The system enables village communities as well as individual raiyats to lease Kanchas for their exclusive use. It has also had the effect of inducing raiyats to combine together and form Panchayets in order to obtain lease of Kanchas. The rent is fairly high and brings a fair revenue to Government but the money is mostly utilised for improving the grazing blocks by digging and deepening wells and introducing better kinds of grass.

I think it very desirable that this system, with any modifications that may be demanded by local conditions should be immediately introduced at least in the Maidan Districts of the State. It is likely that there will be discontent among the people at first but the system must be persevered in for some years in order to prove a success.

13. Forest village system.—In order to meet the case of villages which, under Forest Settlement, have been conceded privileges of grazing their cattle free or at concession rates, the following modified arrangements may be adopted:—

(a) Separate blocks of open forest must be constituted for the different villages or groups of villages.

(b) The blocks should be demarcated and should be, if possible, extensive enough to provide grazing for the entire number of cattle which the villagers are entitled to graze.

(c) Grazing fees should be charged according to the terms of the Forest Settlement but they should be commuted as far as possible into a lumpsum payment.

(d) The villagers must be made to understand that the continuance of the privilege will be conditional on their discharging certain specific obligations, e.g., protection of forest from fire and damage.

(e) Forest subordinates will check from time to time the number of cattle grazed and the condition of the block. They will have no authority to impound cattle or in any way interfere with grazing. But abuse of privileges will be punished by withdrawal of the same or by enhancement of grazing fees.

14. These principles are an adaptation of the Forest Village Scheme which has been lately introduced in some parts of the Madras Presidency. The key-note of the scheme, in the words of the Madras Government, is "the recognition of the paramount necessity of enlisting the people on the side of the Forest Department, instead of leaving them to regard the department and its officers as its natural enemies. That forest conservancy will never be really effective so long as those who live in or near the forests are actually opposed to it, has been borne out by the past history of the Forest Department."

This policy of ensuring the co-operation of villagers is said to have been followed, in some form or other, with useful results in the United Provinces and in the Bombay Presidency and there can be no doubt that it marks the true line of progress.

15. It will be observed that the scheme applies only to open portions of forests where cattle grazing is permissible. And it does not in any way diminish the control of the Forest Department. Breaches of forest rules are not overlooked; only they are punished in a different manner. Instead of resorting to prosecution, impounding of cattle and other vexatious proceedings in individual cases, the whole village community is penalised by enhanced fees or even loss of grazing privileges, if it has been negligent or mischievous.

16. The permit system.—The object of the above proposals is to eliminate eventually the permit system which is generally associated with grave abuses. But until the people get accustomed to the new measures now suggested, it will be necessary to give them the option of grazing their cattle on annual permits. But this must be made slightly more irksome than at present. The grazing fees now charged may be doubled and in some places even quadrupled so that the people may understand in time the advantages of regulated grazing offered by the 'kancha' and Forest Village systems. The rates may be some what as follows. For sheep special pasturage should be provided for.

| | Ordinary Licenses | Normal Licenses |
|---|---|---|
| Cows and Oxen ... | 8 annas per head | Rs. 1 per head |
| Buffaloes ... | Rs. 1 per head | Rs. 2 per head |

17. Improvement of grazing areas.—While endeavouring to enlist the co-operation of the people in the manner above suggested, the Forest Department should, on its part, take steps to improve grazing areas in State Forests. As these will in future be limited to defined portions of State Forests, it should be possible to devote closer attention to:—

(i) the provision of facilities for watering cattle,
(ii) fencing grazing blocks,
(iii) sowing better kinds of grass, and
(iv) departmental supply of improved fodder to village markets.

There is a large variety of valuable grass in forest areas which, if cut, pressed and commercially dealt with, may find a market. Raiyats may be encouraged to stall-feed their cattle with this grass. The Forest Economist may investigate this question.

18. Amrut Mahal kavals.—The Amrut Mahal Department has unique opportunities for establishing model pastures in the rich and extensive lands at its disposal and setting an object lesson to the Panchayets of Village Forests and owners of private pastures. At present, very little care is taken of the Amrut Mahal kavals, beyond closing them to pasture during certain portions of the year. The departmental cattle are grazed for a month or so after which the stubble grass is sold to the villagers.

The question of improving the present system of management, which has been handed down from olden days when land had little or no value, has been frequently discussed. Recently, a number of kavals covering an area of nearly 12,500 acres have been handed over for cultivation and some small improvements have been ordered, but the working of the department can hardly be considered satisfactory until the following essential matters are still open to question:—

(1) The strength at which the herds should be maintained.
(2) The extent of grazing land required for the departmental cattle, based upon reliable data.
(3) The possibility of feeding the cattle with some kind of cultivated fodder, instead of their depending exclusively on pasture.
(4) Preparation of simple working plans for the several kavals.

Government Order G. 4757-61—Mily. 235-16-3, dated 4th September 1918.

The present Officiating Superintendent of the Amrut Mahal Department has been asked to submit proposals for the better management of the department and his report is due in June next. He should specially advert to the points above noted. The new Animal Husbandry Officer may be requested to examine the whole question of Amrit Mahal kaval lands and formulate a definite scheme.

19. Private pasture lands.—In the monograph on Mysore cattle already referred to, it is observed "Many agriculturists have grazing lands of their own and, in addition, are also turning portions of their fields into pasture. This is a move in the right direction and further improvement in this respect may be safely predicted as the price of cattle goes on increasing."

This tendency towards the formation of private pastures is still observable, especially in tracts where cattle rearing is practised as a remunerative industry. In the year 1916-17, 12,51,084 acres were shown as current fallows out of a total of 77,73,754 acres under occupancy. Though occupied lands might be left fallow for other reasons, there can be no doubt that in the majority of cases the fallow lands are meant as pasture. As might be expected, these lands are generally looked after with greater care than gomal or hulbanni lands. The system of private pasture lands requires every encouragement.

120.—Before the Survey and Settlement, it was usual to give lands required for pasture at concession rates. The late Sir James Gordon, Chief Commissioner of Mysore, was of opinion that Amrut Mahal kavals given up by the Department might be given out at a special pasture rate of half the survey assessment. He wrote—"should any of the kavals be hereafter given up by Amrut Mahal Department and not be required by the Mysore State, there need be no occasion to break them up and give them out for cultivation. It would be more advantageous to the public interest and would indeed meet an existing want if each of such kavals were sold as above to the highest bidder, subject to the permanent rent of half the survey assessment in order to encourage the breeding of cattle by substantial raiyats and other private individuals."

It may not be practicable at the present time to adopt the above proposals in their entirety, but now that we are breaking up large areas of land belonging to the Amrut Mahal Department, it is worth while considering whether a few portions may not be disposed of on the lines contemplated by the late Sir James Gordon.

21. The Agricultural Department may usefully undertake to supply good grass seed to raiyats and popularise the cultivation of fodder crops.

22. General.—The grazing resources of the country are rich and varied but badly neglected. The gomal and hulbanni lands have greatly deteriorated owing to over-grazing and inattention. Some of the State Forests provide good grazing owing to exclusion of cattle during portions of the year, but the admission of cattle to these forests is subjected to petty annoyances and the exaction of subordinates. The Amrut Mahal Department which might have been expected to keep its kavals in an efficient condition leaves everything to nature and makes no attempt to grow or conserve grass on scientific principles.

The measures of improvement must necessarily be varied and adapted to the requirements of the several classes of land spoken of and the departments interested therein:—

GOMAL.

(i) For the improvement of gomal lands, our endeavour should be to push on with the scheme of Village Panchayets. For this purpose, it may be necessary to appoint a Special Officer as in Madras. Perhaps the Forest Settlement Officer might undertake this duty obtaining technical advice from Forest Officers and the expert in Animal Husbandry should one be appointed.

HULBANNI.

(ii) Indiscriminate grazing in hulbanni lands should be stopped and their management entrusted to Village Panchayets and Village Improvement Committees where such exist.

(iii) The hulbanni fees may be enhanced.

STATE FORESTS.

(iv) The Kancha system may be developed in the Maidan Districts, in lieu of the permit system now in force.

(v) In order to regulate grazing privileges conceded by Forest Settlement, the arrangements indicated in para 13 may be adopted.

(vi) The permit system should eventually disappear, but so long as it is in force, the grazing fees should be raised.

(vii) The grazing blocks in State Forests should be improved by:—

(a) providing facilities for watering cattle,
(b) fencing the blocks, and
(c) growing suitable kinds of grass.

AMRUT MAHAL KAVALS.

(viii) The entire system of management has to be reformed and placed on a rational basis. Further investigation is necessary in regard to the points mentioned in para 18.

(ix) The question of granting on hulgaval tenure lands relinquished by the Amrut Mahal Department may be investigated in view to encourage the formation of private pastures.

(x) The Agricultural Department may usefully undertake to supply good grass seed to raiyats and popularise the growth of fodder crops. The expert in Animal Husbandry should be asked to devote early attention to the question of improving grazing facilities and practices in the State.

The above proposals are published for general information and may be discussed at the next session of the Representative Assembly after which Government will pass final orders, taking into consideration the views of the Revenue, Forest and Agricultural Departments.

Grant for Repairs to Civil Buildings.

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

ORDER No. P. W. 78-125—B. 308-355, DATED 8TH JULY 1919.

It is observed by Government that repairs to Civil Buildings have been very much neglected in the past.

2. The limits of annual allowance prescribed for both ordinary and special repairs to a building, are ordinarily half and one per cent respectively, of the initial cost and even this provision is not utilised in many departments; and Government have reason to believe that many buildings, hospitals, dispensaries, schools and public offices, etc., have not received due attention with a view to proper maintenance, for a long period.

3. The annual expenditure incurred on the repair and maintenance of all classes of buildings during the past five years has been Rs. 1,12,000 on an average. This is apparently too low a sum for a large number of buildings to be dealt with. Moreover, there seems to have been no uniformity in the matter of distributing the amount, nor have all buildings in the State received an equal amount of attention. In order that the needful periodical repairs may be regularly carried out to each buildings, in proper time, it is necessary to allot some amount annually for this purpose. The amount to be expended will depend on various factors such as, the importance of the building, the locality in which it is situated, etc. It should, however, be possible, to arrive at a certain proportion which the cost of repairs should bear on the capital outlay.

4. A larger provision is considered necessary if the buildings are to be maintained in a State of proper repair. The amount to be provided for the purpose in future will, therefore, be fixed at 2½ lakhs for the buildings now in existence.

5. To ensure that each building receives its due share of attention, this amount of Rs. 2½ lakhs will be distributed to all the buildings in the State in proportion to the capital value of the buildings concerned.

6. All works will be carried out by the Public Works Department, except in the case of buildings under the control of Deputy Commissioners and other Civil Officers. In such cases, those works only for which the repair allotments provided amount to Rs. 250 and under will be carried out by these officers and all other works of that class, for which the repair allotment exceeds Rs. 250 being carried out by the Public Works Department.

7. In order to fix the amount to be allotted to each Department or the rate for different classes of buildings, a list will be prepared forthwith by all the Departments concerned showing the capital cost of every building under their control and the annual cost of maintenance. The Chief Engineer is requested to take early action in the matter and submit the list for the information of Government.

8. The Chief Engineer and other Heads of Departments to whom a distribution of the allotment of 2½ lakhs will be made according to the list mentioned in paragraph 7 above, are requested to submit a half-yearly statement of the progress of works under maintenance and to see that adequate and effective arrangements are made to utilize the allotments in full under proper scrutiny.

Redistribution of Sub-Division charges in the Public Works Divisions.

READ—

Note No. B. 607, dated the 14th May 1919, by the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, on the redistribution of the Sub-Division charges in the Public Works Divisions.

ORDER No. P. W. 212A—236—E. 649-673, DATED 14TH JULY 1919.

There are at present a large number of Public Works Sub-Divisions with the result that even Sub-Overseers have to be placed in charge of them. This has led to increase of office work and decrease of attention to the works themselves in the Sub-Divisions. With a view to remedy these defects, it is proposed.

(1) to redistribute the Sub-Division charges as shown in the statement attached;
(2) to place an Assistant Engineer or a Senior Sub-Assistant Engineer in charge of each Sub-Division; and
(3) to post an Upper Subordinate or a Senior Sub-Overseer to each taluk for direct charge of large and important works.

2. Government agree that it is very necessary that men in charge of Sub-Divisions should be officers and not Upper Subordinates and approve of the proposals embodied in the statement (attached). Supervisors may, however, be posted to temporary charges or to special works.

3. The clerical establishment that will become available by reason of the reduction in the number of Sub-Division charges may be posted to the Sub-Divisions and Divisions according to requirements, so that the strain thrown on each Sub-Division, which will be large in extent, and the office also, may be eased.

Channels Division at French Rocks.

READ—

(1) Public Works Secretary's notes ending with No. D. 148, dated the 12 February 1919, submitting proposals for the abolition of the Irrigation Division and the constitution of a Channels Division with headquarters at French Rocks.

(2) Public Works No. 874—E. 4116, dated the 1st March 1919, from the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, to the Executive Engineer, Irrigation Division, notifying the abolition of the Irrigation Division at the end of June 1919.

(3) Letter No. 933—4405, dated the 10th April 1919, to the Chief Engineer on Special Duty, Cauvery Valley Irrigation, enquiring whether No. V Division at Yedatore may be converted into a Channels Division from 1st July 1919.

(4) Letter No. C. 285, dated the 23rd May 1919, from the Chief Engineer, Cauvery Valley Irrigation, formulating proposals in connection with the new Channels Division at French Rocks and recommending that the Yedatore Division may be continued for another year from 1st July 1919.

(5) Letter No. 714, dated the 30th May 1919, from the same officer, stating that the project work of the High Level canal may be expected to be completed by the end of June 1919, and that No. III Survey Division at French Rocks may also be closed, till the construction of the High Level canal work is taken up, but that Mr. K. V. Desikacharya, Executive Engineer, may be placed in charge of the Channels Division, as he will be able to work out the further details of distribution, etc., of the High Level canal.

ORDER No. P. W. 258-66—E. 760-68, DATED 16TH JULY 1919.

Since the abolition, in July 1908, of the Channels Division at French Rocks, the charge of the Mysore Division has been considered too extensive to be managed satisfactorily and efficiently by one Executive Engineer. The Secretary, Public Works Department, proposed at first to revive the Public Works Division at French Rocks and to call it the "Channels Division". The object of this proposal was to entrust to the new Division the duties of (1) maintaining all the important river channels in the Mysore District, (2) attending to the tank works in the channel area and (3) undertaking fresh investigations to extend the irrigation possibilities in the tract. It was also intended to add to this Division for management the new channels that are being opened out in the Krishnaraja Sagara Circle. In this view, the Chief Engineer, Cauvery Valley Irrigation, was consulted and he was of opinion that there was urgent need for the constitution of a Channels Division at French Rocks. It was also suggested that the present No. V Division, Krishnaraja Sagara Works, with its headquarters at Yedatore might be converted into another Channels Division, so that all the channels, both old and new, might be properly worked under a consistent policy.

2. The Chief Engineer, Cauvery Valley Irrigation, subsequently reported that the extensions of the channels in Yedatore would not be completed by the end of June 1919, as works to the extent of Rs. 1,85,289 still remained to be taken up and completed during 1919-20, and that the existing No. V Division at Yedatore might therefore be continued for another year.

3. In these circumstances, Government are pleased to sanction the constitution of one Channels Division with headquarters at French Rocks, with four Sub-Divisions attached thereto from 1st July 1919, together with the establishment as detailed in the statement attached. This new Division will be placed under the control of the Chief Engineer, Cauvery Valley Irrigation.

4. Besides the usual maintenance and regulation works of the channels appended to this order, the duties of the new Division will comprise the following:—

(a) remodelling and improving the old channels below the Krishnaraja Sagara Reservoir to secure a higher duty of water;

(b) remodelling the distributory system for proper distribution; and

(c) managing the block system of irrigation and development of sugar-cane cultivation under the reservoir.

5. The cost of the Engineer establishment, employed on the sugar-cane development scheme below the Krishnaraja Sagara, was hitherto debited to the Irrigation Division. As that Division is now abolished, the cost of the establishment will hereafter be debited to the Krishnaraja Sagara Works, in the same manner as the cost of the Revenue Establishment employed on the Sugar-cane Development Scheme. The charges incurred on the Engineer establishment, which were debited to the Irrigation Division till now, will be written back to the capital and revenue accounts of the Krishnaraja Sagara Works.

6. Orders have already issued in the Public Works Department abolishing the Irrigation Division. Government direct that the present temporary Division for the High Level Canal Surveys at French Rocks be also abolished and the sundry items of work still remaining to be done be completed by the Executive Engineer of the new Channels Division.

7. The continuance of the Yedatoré Division for another year from 1st July 1919, is also sanctioned.

Report on Recruitment Operations in the State.

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

READ—

Report on Recruitment Operations in the State from the 25th September 1917 to end of November 1918, submitted by the Director of Recruitment in Mysore, Bangalore.

ORDER No. G. 1432-82—MILY. 232-18-42, DATED 21ST JULY 1919.

Recorded.

2. The Recruiting Operations in Mysore commenced from about the 25th September 1917 and lasted till the end of November 1918.

3. A Central Recruitment Committee with Rajasevadhurina Sirdar M. Kanaraj Urs, B.A., C.S.I., as President and the marginally noted official and non-official members was formed, District and Taluk Committees with Deputy Commissioners and Amildars and Presidents respectively were also established. A regular net work of organisations was thus created for vigorously carrying on recruiting operations.

Official Members.

1. Col. J. Desaraj Urs, C.I.E., M.V.O., Chief Commandant.
2. Rajamantrapravina Dewan Bahadur Mr. J. S. Chakravarti, M.A., F.R.A.S., Financial Secretary.
3. Mr. K. R. Srinivasiengar, M.A., Revenue Commissioner.
4. Mr. P. F. Bowring, Deputy Commissioner, Mysore.

Non-official Members

1. Rajasabhabhushana Dewan Bahadur Mr. K. P. Puttanna Chetty, C.I.E.
2. Mr. Ramachandra Rao Sindhe.
3. „ Nawab Gulam Ahmed Kalami.
4. Rao Saheb Mr. Chennayya.

4. Much propogandistic work was done, profuse use being made of posters, leaflets and notice, etc. The "Mysore Recruitment Bulletin" and the "Vrittantha Ratnakara" did good service in informing the people regarding the conditions of service, pay and prospects in the Army and the concessions offered to the recruits.

5. As the total number of recruits (2,541) secured from commencement till June 1918, fell far short of the expected number (6,415), the Government decided on the recommendation of the Central Recruitment Committee to appoint a whole-time Director of Recruitment with control over all the establishments maintained in the several districts. The Recruitment staff consequently under what considerable changes. Mr. P. F. Bowring, who was appointed Director of Recruitment took charge of the office on 9th June 1918.

6. The State was, at his suggestion divided into three recruiting areas, each being placed in charge of a Divisional Officer with Headquarters at Bangalore, Mysore and Shimoga. The Divisional Officers moved freely securing the advice and help of the local officers and the co-operation of the people. The Director also toured fairly frequently and visited all the districts except Kadur.

7. The Office of the Director of Recruitment lasted till the 21st of November 1918. During these four months the number of recruits secured was 1,862 as shown in the statement below as against 2,541 during the preceding 9½ months, Bangalore, Mysore and Kolar, contributing the largest numbers. In September and November 1918, the outbreak of the Influenza, Epidemic interfered with the operations, and the signature of the Armistice on 11th November 1918, rendered further recruiting unnecessary. In enlisting men no distinction was made between Mysoreans by birth and immigrants all being given the same rewards and admitted into the Mysore or British Army. Out of the total number of 4,403 men recruited, 1,389, i.e., 31·5 per cent were rejected as unfit for Military service and of the rest 1,127 were enlisted in various units of the Mysore Army, and 1887 in the British Indian Army.

8. A sum of Rs. 44,250 was placed at the disposal of the Deputy Commissioners for expenditure in connection with recruitment in the districts during the year 1917-18, and a further sum of Rs. 45,000 was placed at the disposal of the Director during the current year. A sum of Rs. 79,855-4-0 was spent since the commencement of the operations, leaving a balance of Rs. 9,394-11-2 at the end of December 1918.

9. Government desire to place on record their appreciation of the work done by Mr. Bowring and their thanks are also due to the Chief Commandant, the members of the Central Recruitment Committee, the Sub-Committee and the Deputy Commissioners who are reported to have rendered considerable help. They note with satisfaction that the three Divisional Recruitment Officers also discharged their duties creditably and that the non-official agency was not lacking in its interest in, and enthusiasm for, recruiting.

OFFICIAL PAPERS

PROCEEDINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE.

Remission of Assessment.

READ—

Government Order No. R. 13579-88—L. R. 375-18-13, dated the 24th April 1919, passing orders regarding the grant of remissions of assessment, on account of unfavourable seasonable conditions during 1918-19.

2. Representation by Mr. S. Seetharamiah, Advocate and Member of the Legislative Council, Shimoga, urging grant of similar concessions in respect of Sorab Taluk and generally in the case of the rain-fed lands and wet lands, which yielded a crop of less than four annas in the Shimoga District.

3. Letter No. 13, dated the 3rd July 1919, from the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore, furnishing his own views in the matter.

ORDER No. R. 1472-4—L. R. 375-18-17, DATED 26TH JULY 1919.

The Revenue Commissioner states that no concession was recommended by him in respect of the Sorab Taluk, in his letter No. F. C. 258, dated the 15th February 1919, as it was found that more than 50 per cent of the total wet extent in the taluk had been cultivated but, now that it is reported that wet crops in the Anavatti, Jade and Kuppagadde Hoblis and in a few villages of the other hoblis of the taluk fared quite as badly as in the Shimoga Taluk, he agrees with the Deputy Commissioner in recommending extension of the concessions sanctioned in the Government Order of the 24th April 1919 read above, to the Sorab Taluk. In these circumstances Government are pleased to approve of the concurrent recommendations of the Revenue Commissioner and Deputy Commissioner.

2. As regards rain-fed lands, the Revenue Commissioner is of opinion that similar concessions may be granted in their case also, in consideration of the facts that the tanks in the Malnad being small kattes, mostly and consequently only nominal sources of water-supply, almost all wet lands in the Malnad taluks are rain-fed, that it is difficult to distinguish tank-fed from rain-fed lands, that the difference in assessment between them is not very appreciable and that the additional amount, which will have to be remitted on this account will not exceed Rs. 20,000 at the utmost. In the light of the above, Government are pleased to sanction the recommendation of the Revenue Commissioner in respect of the taluks of the Shimoga District noted below:—

Shimoga, Kumsi, Shikarpur and Sorab Taluks.

3. In regard to the representation for remission of half the wet assessment on wet lands yielding a crop of less than four annas, Government observe that the point has been carefully considered and negatived, and that such a concession is not called for.

Constitution of a separate Sanitary Circle of Superintendence.

READ—

Public Works Secretary's Note dated the 10th February 1919, submitting proposals to re-organise the Circles of Superintendence and to form a separate Sanitary Circle for the preparation and execution of water-supply, drainage projects, etc.

ORDER No. P. W. 361-410—E. 1247-96, DATED 26TH JULY 1919.

The Southern Circle is, at present, in charge of Mr. J. Bhore in addition to his duties as Sanitary Engineer. Mr. Bhore has specialised in Sanitary Engineering, and his services have been mostly in that direction. The combined charge is however considered too heavy for that officer and he cannot be expected to do full justice to both the important and large building works, Architectural designs, Irrigation works and roads in the Southern Circle, as well as the increasing demand for scientific drainage and water-supply schemes throughout the whole State. There have been delays therefore in developing schemes of water-supply and drainage, due mainly to the fact that the Superintending Engineer cannot devote the time and attention necessary for their initiation and proper scrutiny.

2. Government have been anxious that a separate agency, solely responsible for water-supply and drainage schemes in the State, should be created with a suitable staff, so that the long delay, inevitable under the existing conditions in their preparation and submission, may be avoided.

3. The Secretary, Public Works Department, has accordingly submitted proposals for the constitution of a separate Sanitary Circle to be placed under an officer with the rank and powers of a Superintending Engineer, and for the re-organization of the existing two Circles of Superintendence in such a manner that they may be more suitable, geographically compact, and administratively efficient.

4. After a careful consideration of the proposals, Government are pleased to sanction—

(a) the formation of a separate Superintending Engineer's Circle for Sanitary works for the whole State with headquarters at Bangalore; and

(b) the posting of Mr. J. Bhore, Superintending Engineer, for the charge of that Circle.

5. To fill up the vacancy caused by the transfer of Mr. J. Bhore to the Sanitary Circle, Government are pleased to appoint Rai Sahib. R. A. Srinivasa Aiyangar, B.A., B.C.E. (Executive Engineer, Madras Public Works Department), Superintending Engineer, on a pay of Rs. 1,000 plus Rs. 250 personal allowance, for a period of three years. He will draw travelling allowances at the rates admissible to Superintending Engineers (local) and will be subject to the leave rules laid down in the Mysore Service Regulations.

6. Separate orders will issue regarding the jurisdiction of the three circles of Superintendence and the establishment to be given to them.

Rules for the Preparation of Tank Projects.

ORDER No. P. W. 1456-68—B. 1451-63, DATED 1ST AUGUST 1919.

At present the procedure in regard to selection of irrigation projects is not well defined and the following rules are laid down for guidance :—

1. Estimates for the restoration and repairs of tanks should be prepared in the order of urgency and importance. This will be decided in consultation with the Deputy Commissioner of the District.

2. The Executive Engineers of Divisions should be asked not to take up the detailed preparation of a project until all the preliminaries including contribution from raiyats are settled and administrative sanction is given by competent authority.

3. A list of major tanks in each district should be maintained in the form annexed.

4. Tanks, the cost of restoration of which does not exceed ten years' revenue must first be restored in preference to those requiring a larger outlay.

5. Restoration of tanks involving extension of irrigation under them and consequently a large capital outlay likely to prove remunerative should be carefully investigated in the order of their urgency and importance and should be taken up as funds become available.

6. Tanks for which raiyats come forward with liberal contributions should have preference, but the question of contribution should first be settled.

N. B. Exception.—In cases, however, of those tanks whose condition is such as to cause damages to those lower down the series or to a railway line, their restoration should be undertaken without regard to the conditions set forth in rules supra.

7. The list of sanctioned works maintained in each district should be verified each year before the budget programme is drawn up and only such works which could be taken up during the year should be provided for therein.

8. These rules should be brought into force with effect from the current year.

Appeal Against the Orders of the Revenue Commissioner.

Appeal No. 10 of 18-19.

| Appellant. | Vs. | Respondents. |
|---|---|---|

Subject.

Appeal against the order of the Revenue Commissioner regarding the delay in the handing over to the appellant of 14½ Vrittis of Arodi Village purchased by her husband the late Hanumanthiah, toddy contractor, Dodballapur, in a Revenue Sale.

ORDER No. 2110 L. R.—178-18-7, DATED 8TH AUGUST 1919.

There is no doubt or dispute as to the essential facts connected with this appeal. The Jodi Village of Arodi in the Dodballapur Taluk comprises 69 vrittis with an aggregate area of 3,891 acres 29 guntas and a survey assessment of Rs. 2,194-4-8; the Jodi payable to Government being Rs. 1,339. The Jodi amount having fallen into arrears, an order of forfeiture was passed by the Sub-Division Officer on the 31st March 1913 in the usual terms; that is to say, declaring the defaulters' holding to have been forfeited to Government under Section 54 of the Mysore Land Revenue Code, and directing under Section 159 that the said holding be sold after due proclamation. The sale proclamation (vide Mysore Gazette Part II, 30th July 1914) contained a detailed description of the "immovable property" to be sold, its classification, extent, assessment, estimated value, the annual jodi payable, and the amount of arrears; it also contained among other things a clause stating that "purchasers, having completed the payment of the purchase money, will, as soon as the sale has been confirmed by the Deputy Commissioner, be placed in immediate possession." The sale was held on the 29th August 1914, and the properties comprised in 14½ vrittis were knocked down to Chikka Hanumanthiah (husband of the present appellant Muthamma) for Rs. 6,000. There being no objection to the sale, which was regular in all respects, the same was confirmed on the 12th October 1914.

2. The auction purchaser applied to the Amildar to be placed in possession; but this was resisted by the present respondents on the ground that they were Kadim tenants and that the purchaser could not oust them but only collect the customary rent. The Sub-Division Officer, before whom the matter went, disallowed the contention of the alleged Kadim tenants, and directed that the purchaser should be put in possession of the property purchased.

3. The tenants appealed to the Deputy Commissioner, who, after hearing parties, decided in favour of the tenants. The following extract from the Deputy Commissioner's order indicates the view upon which he proceeded:—

"The real point at issue is whether the burden of proving that they are Kadim tenants lies on the Kadim tenants, or whether it is Chikka Muthamma who has to prove that they are not Kadim tenants. Muthamma is the new comer, and it seems to me that it is up to her to prove that these people have no right to a tenancy of the land.

"All that the Taluk Revenue Authorities can do is to declare that Chikka Muthamma is the new owner of the lands in the usual way that is allotted for doing such acts.

"They are not competent to say what is the relationship between Muthamma and the Kadim tenants. This should be settled in a Civil Court if there is any dispute in the matter. By announcing that Muthamma is the owner of the land, the Revenue authorities have done all that need be done by them, and they should not take any further action in the matter.

"If however it should appear that there is likely to be a breach of the peace, action should at once be taken under Section 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code".

4. From the above order Muthamma appealed to the Revenue Commissioner, who, however, being of opinion that the Deputy Commissioner's order was a proper one, declined to interfere and dismissed the appeal.

5. She has now preferred this further appeal to Government upon the grounds, mainly, that the burden of proving that by the sale in her favour the possession of the lands sold did not pass to her, but merely the right to collect rent from the tenants, lies on those who set up the right of Kadim tenancy; and that what the appellant acquired under the sale was not a mere right to a declaration of ownership, but all the 14½ vrittis together with the right of possession thereto.

6. It may be observed at once that the view expressed by the Deputy Commissioner as to where the burden of proof lies in a case like the present, seems to be based on a clear misconception of the law. The Mysore Land Revenue Code does not raise any general presumption in favour of a tenancy being permanent or Kadim. Immemorial possession, or the payment of uniform rent at rates equivalent to those of land revenue assessment, as the case may be, should be established before any such presumption can arise; in the present case no attempt has been made by the respondents to prove either of these incidents, or any other circumstance from which the nature of the alleged tenancy may be inferred. The Deputy Commissioner's dictum that the purchaser as the new comer should prove that the respondents have no right to a Kadim tenancy, is an extraordinary perversion of the true general principle, namely, that the proof of any particular fact lies on the party who alleges it, particularly so when it is a fact specially within his knowledge. It has accordingly been held in several cases that a person who, in answer to a suit for ejectment, alleges the permanency of the tenure, must make out his allegation affirmatively, or he will fail.

7. Apart from the question of burden of proof, a plea of Kadim tenancy even if satisfactorily established will not ordinarily avail the tenant anything; unless, possibly he is in a position to go further and prove that that tenancy was in existence before the rights of Government to rent or land revenue over the lands comprised in the holding were alienated to the superior holder. If he cannot prove this last circumstance (and it has not been so much as alleged in the present case), the forfeiture and sale of the alienated holding under sections 54 and 159 of the Land Revenue Code entail the consequence that the holding becomes "freed from all tenures, rights, incumbrances and equities theretofore created by the holder or any of his predecessors in title or in anywise subsisting as against such holder." Section 54 (as amended by Regulation VII of 1916) gives the Deputy Commissioner power to "direct otherwise" in which case the tenures, etc., subsisting will remain; but the records do not show that any such direction was given in the present case.

8. The Deputy Commissioner refers to the terms of Section 169 to suggest that an inam village forfeited on account of arrears of revenue due to Government rests in Government "without prejudice to the rights of the occupants of the soil," and concludes that the purchaser will only succeed to the position of the inamdar. This is clearly erroneous; for Section 169 is not applicable to a case of forfeiture at all but is one of a group of sections, dealing with the right of Government to attach and manage a village in those cases in which the adoption of any of the processes previously specified (including forfeiture is deemed to be) inexpedient.

9. The Code has made ample provision to safeguard the interests of tenants and other persons interested, against forefeiture by reason of the registered holder's default in the payment of land revenue. Under Section 77 they are at liberty to pay the sum due, and obtain the aid of the Deputy Commissioner to recover the proportional amounts payable by other persons and under Rule 40 of the Land Revenue Rules they may cause their names and interest to be entered in the special register, in which case they become entitled to notice before the holding is declared forfeited. If they neglect to take these precautions, and the entire holding is forfeited, they have only themselves to blame for the result.

10. The law makes a clear distinction in the matter of the rights that pass under a sale, between the holding in respect of which an arrear of land revenue is due and other immovable property of the defaulter. So far as the latter is concerned, only the right title and interest of the defaulter can be sold; but as regards the former, the arrear is a paramount charge on the holding and every part thereof, and its sale after forfeiture (unless otherwise declared) extinguishes all tenures, etc., subsisting as against the holder. Were it not for such a provision, the interests of the State in the matter of the realisation of the land revenue would suffer materially; for one thing, all kinds of fictitious rights and interest would be set up against a forfeiture, and for another thing, where sales are made subject to the unknown or undisclosed rights of third persons, purchasers will not come forward readily to buy.

11. In the case under appeal, it was not merely the defaulters' right to recover rent or land revenue from the tenants or co-holders that was affected by the forfeiture and sale but the entire holding or land comprised within the 14½ vrittis. The sale to appellant having been confirmed, it was incumbent upon the Deputy Commissioner, under Section 187, to put her into possession of the land in question, that is to say, actual possession or such other possession as the nature of the case might admit,—ejecting, if need be, the respondents or any others who offered obstruction.

In the circumstances, the appeal will be allowed, the orders of the Deputy Commissioner and the Revenue Commissioner set aside, and an order passed directing that the appellant be put in possession of the 14½ vrittis purchased by her upon application made in this behalf.

ORDER No. 519-20—MUZ. 522-18-2, DATED 13TH AUGUST 1919.

The improvements of the Ayurvedic College in Mysore has been under the consideration of Government for some time past; and the Muzrai Superintendent was directed in August 1918, to submit a comprehensive scheme for its reorganization. He has accordingly submitted a scheme for the reorganization of the college on up-to-date lines and for the revision of the courses of studies, so as to ensure a sound training in the theory and practice of the system of Ayurvedic medicine.

2. The scheme which is expected to cost Rs. 33,564 per annum, against a present expenditure of Rs. 8,092, provides for two distinct courses of study, a higher one called the Acharya course, for persons with a sufficient knowledge of Sanskrit and English to be able to study the text books in the original, and a lower one called the Vaidya course, for students unable to grapple with the subjects taught, except through the vernacular. Provision is made for a system of scholarships to serve as an encouragement to the students as also for the establishment of a well-founded dispensary with in-patients' wards together with a herb garden, a museum, a laboratory and a pharmacy is also recommended. A curriculum of studies approved by the College Committee as regards Ayurvedic subjects and by the Senior Surgeon as regards modern scientific subjects is also submitted. The scheme as submitted by the Muzrai Superintendent is well considered and exhaustive and the recommendations made by him are on the whole suitable. The Government are accordingly pleased to generally approve of it; but before according their final sanction to it, they desire to have the proposals scrutinized by one or more recognized experts in Ayurveda with a view to improve them in detail. The Muzrai Superintendent is requested to take early action in the matter.

3. It is observed that the proposals of the Muzrai Superintendent do not include any provision for the teaching of Unani system of medicine. He is requested to submit his proposals in this respect for the consideration of Government when passing orders on the scheme. If the Muzrai Superintendent desires to visit some of the better type of institutions outside the State, so as to obtain first-hand knowledge of requirements and to interview any experts with a view to collect information as regards the eligibility of candidates for recruitment to the staff, Government will be glad to arrange for his deputation for the purpose on receipt of a definite programme of work from him.

4. The Muzrai Superintendent recommends the provision of a lump sum of Rs. 70,000 for construction of buildings for the location of the College and its adjuncts and another sum of Rs. 12,100 for initial equipment. Administrative sanction is accorded to these proposals subject to further elaboration of choice of sites, preparation of estimates and the provision of funds.

5. The question of assuring a certain number of appointments to the successful students of the Acharya course every year will be separately dealt with after consultation with the various District Boards and other local bodies, some of whom are now maintaining indigenous dispensaries.

CHAPTER I.

OF EASEMENTS GENERALLY.

"Easement" defined.

4. An easement is a right which the owner or occupier of certain land possesses, as such, for the beneficial enjoyment of that land, to do and continue to do something, or to prevent and continue to prevent something being done, in or upon, or in respect of, certain other land not his own.

Dominant and servient heritages and owners.

The land for the beneficial enjoyment of which the right exists is called the dominant heritage, and the owner or occupier thereof the dominant owner; the land on which the liability is imposed is called the servient heritage, and the owner or occupier thereof the servient owner.

Explanation.—In the first and second clauses of this section, the expression "land" includes also things permanently attached to the earth: the expression "beneficial enjoyment" includes also possible convenience, remote advantage, and even a mere amenity; and the expression "to do something" includes removal and appropriation by the dominant owner for the beneficial enjoyment of the dominant heritage, of any part of the soil of the servient heritage or anything growing or subsisting thereon.

Illustrations.

(a) A, as the owner of a certain house, has a right of way thither over his neighbour B's land for purposes connected with the beneficial enjoyment of the house. This is an easement.

(b) A, as the owner of a certain house, has the right to go on his neighbour B's land, and to take water for the purposes of his household out of a spring therein. This is an easement.

(c) A, as the owner of a certain house, has the right to conduct water from B's stream to supply the fountains in the garden attached to the house. This is an easement.

(d) A, as the owner of a certain house and farm, has the right to graze a certain number of his own cattle on B's field, or to take for the purpose of being used in the house, by himself, his family, guests, lodgers and servants, water, or fish out of C's tank, or timber out of D's wood, or to use, for the purpose of manuring his land, the leaves which have fallen from the trees on E's land. These are easements.

(e) A dedicates to the public the right to occupy the surface of certain land for the purpose of passing and re-passing. This right is not an easement.

(f) A is bound to cleanse a water-course running through his land and keep it free from obstruction for the benefit of B, a lower riparian owner. This is not an easement.

Continuous and discontinuous apparent and non-apparent easements.

5. Easements are either continuous or discontinuous, apparent or non-apparent.

A continuous easement is one whose enjoyment is, or may be, continual without the act of man.

A discontinuous easement is one that needs the act of man for its enjoyment.

An apparent easement is one the existence of which is shown by some permanent sign which, upon careful inspection by a competent person, would be visible to him.

A non-apparent easement is one that has no such sign.

Illustrations.

(a) A right annexed to B's house to receive light by the windows without obstruction by his neighbour A. This is a continuous easement.

(b) A right of way annexed to A's house over B's land. This is a discontinuous easement.

(c) Rights annexed to A's land to lead water thither across B's land by an aqueduct and to draw off water thence by a drain. The drain would be discovered upon careful inspection by a person conversant with such matters. These are apparent easements.

(d) A right annexed to A's house to prevent B from building on his own land. This is a non-apparent easement.

Easement for limited time or on condition.

6. An easement may be permanent, or for a term of years or other limited period, or subject to periodical interruption, or exercisable only at a certain place or at certain times, or between certain hours, or for a particular purpose, or on condition that it shall commence or become void or voidable on the happening of a specified event or the performance or non-performance of a specified act.

Easements restrictive of certain rights. Exclusive right to enjoy.

7. Easements are restrictions of one or other of the following rights (namely):—

(a) the exclusive right of every owner of immovable property (subject to any law for the time being in force) to enjoy and dispose of the same and all products thereof and accessions thereto;

Rights to advantages arising from situation.

(b) the right of every owner of immovable property (subject to any law for the time being in force) to enjoy without disturbance by another the natural advantages arising from its situation.

Illustrations of the Rights above referred to:

(a) The exclusive right of every owner of land in a town to build on such land, subject to any Municipal law for the time being in force.

(b) The right of every owner of land that the air passing thereto shall not be unreasonably polluted by other persons.

(c) The right of every owner of a house that his physical comfort shall not be interfered with materially and unreasonably by noise or vibration caused by any other person.

(d) The right of every owner of land to so much light and air as pass vertically thereto.

(e) The right of every owner of land that such land, in its natural condition, shall have the support naturally rendered by the subjacent soil of another person.

Explanation.—Land is in its natural condition when it is not excavated and not subjected to artificial pressure; and the "subjacent and adjacent soil" mentioned in this illustration means such soil only as in its natural condition would support the dominant heritage in its natural condition.

(f) The right of every owner of land that, within his own limits, the water which naturally passes or percolates by, over or through his land shall not, before so passing or percolating, be unreasonably polluted by other persons.

(g) The right of every owner of land to collect and dispose within his own limits of all water under the land which does not pass in a defined channel and all water on its surface which does not pass in a defined channel.

(h) The right of every owner of land that the water of every natural stream which passes by, through or over his land in a defined natural channel shall be allowed by other persons to flow within such owner's limits without interruption and without material alteration in quantity, direction, force, or temperature: the right of every owner of land abutting on a natural lake or pond into or out of which a natural stream flows, that the water of such lake or pond shall be allowed by other persons to remain within such owner's limits without material alteration in quantity or temperature.

(i) The right of every owner of upper land that water naturally rising in, or falling on, such land, and not passing in defined channels, shall be allowed by the owner of adjacent lower land to run naturally thereto.

(j) The right of every owner of land abutting on a natural stream, lake or pond to use and consume its water for drinking, household purposes and watering his cattle and sheep; and the right of every such owner to use and consume the water for irrigating such land, and for the purposes of any manufactory situate thereon, provided that he does not thereby cause material injury to other like owners.

Explanation.—A natural stream is a stream, whether permanent or intermittent, tidal or tideless, on the surface of land or underground, which flows by the operation of nature only and in a natural and known course.

CHAPTER II.

THE IMPOSITION, ACQUISITION, AND TRANSFER OF EASEMENTS.

Who may impose easements.

8. An easement may be imposed by any one in the circumstances, and to the extent, in and to which he may transfer his interest in the heritage on which the liability is to be imposed.

Illustrations.

(a) A is tenant of B's land under a lease for an unexpired term of twenty years, and has power to transfer his interest under the lease. A may impose an easement on the land to continue during the time that the lease exists or for any shorter period.

(b) A is tenant for his life of certain land with remainder to B absolutely. A cannot, unless with B's consent, impose an easement thereon which will continue after the determination of his life-interest.

(c) A, B and C are co-owners of certain land. A cannot, without the consent of B and C, impose an easement on the land or on any part thereof.

(d) A and B are lessees of the same lessor, A of a field X for a term of five years, and B of a field Y for a term of ten years. A's interest under his lease is transferable; B's is not. A may impose on X, in favour of B, a right of way terminable with A's lease.

Servient owners.

9. Subject to the provisions of section 8, a servient owner may impose on the servient heritage any easement that does not lessen the utility of the existing easement. But he cannot, without the consent of the dominant owner, impose an easement on the servient heritage which would lessen such utility.

Illustrations.

(a) A has, in respect of his mill, a right to the uninterrupted flow thereto, from sunrise to noon, of the water of B's stream. B may grant to C the right to divert the water of the stream from noon to sunset: provided that A's supply is not thereby diminished.

(b) A has, in respect of his house, a right of way over B's land. B may grant to C, as the owner of a neighbouring farm, the right to feed his cattle on the grass growing on the way: provided that A's right of way is not thereby obstructed.

Lessor and mortgagor.

10. Subject to the provisions of section 8, a lessor may impose, on the property leased, any easement that does not derogate from the rights of the lessee as such, and a mortgagor may impose, on the property mortgaged, any easement that does not render the security insufficient. But a lessor or mortgagor cannot, without the consent of the lessee or mortgagee, impose any other easement on such property, unless it be to take effect on the termination of the lease of the redemption of the mortgage.

Explanation.—A security is insufficient within the meaning of this section unless the value of the mortgaged property exceeds by one-third, or, if consisting of buildings, exceeds by one-half, the amount for the time being due on the mortgage.

Lessee.

11. No lessee or other person having a derivative interest may impose on the property held by him as such an easement to take effect after the expiration of his own interest, or in derogation of the right of the lessor or the superior proprietor.

Who may acquire easements.

12. An easement may be acquired by the owner of the immovable property for the beneficial enjoyment of which the right is created, or, on his behalf, by any person in possession of the same.

One of two or more co-owners of immovable property may, as such, with or without the consent of the other or others, acquire an easement for the beneficial enjoyment of such property.

No lessee of immovable property can acquire, for the beneficial enjoyment of other immovable property of his own, an easement in or over the property comprised in his lease.

Easements of necessity and quasi-easements.

13. Where one person transfers or bequeaths immovable property to another.—

(a) if an easement in other immovable property of the transfer or testator is necessary for enjoying the subject of the transfer or bequest, the transferee or legatee shall be entitled to such easement; or

(b) if such an easement is apparent and continuous and necessary for enjoying the said subject as it was enjoyed when the transfer or bequest took effect, the transferee or legatee shall, unless a different intention is expressed or necessarily implied, be entitled to such easement;

(c) if an easement in the subject of the transfer or bequest is necessary for enjoying other immovable property of the transferor or testator, the transferor or the legal representative of the testator, shall be entitled to such easement; or

(d) if such an easement is apparent and continuous and necessary for enjoying the said property as it was enjoyed when the transfer or bequest took effect, the transferor, or the legal representative of the testator, shall, unless a different intention is expressed or necessarily implied, be entitled to such easement.

Where a partition is made of the joint property of several persons,—

(e) if an easement over the share of one of them is necessary for enjoying the share of another of them, the latter shall be entitled to such easement, or

(f) if such an easement is apparent and continuous and necessary for enjoying the share of the latter as it was enjoyed when the partition took effect, he shall, unless a different intention is expressed or necessarily implied, be entitled to such easement.

The easement mentioned in this section, clasues (a), (c) and (e), are called easements of necessity.

Where immovable property passes by operation of law, the persons from and to whom it so passes are, for the purpose of this section, to be deemed, respectively, the transferor and transferee.

Illustrations.

(a) A sells B a field then used for agricultural purposes only. It is inaccessible except by passing over A's adjoining land or by trespasssing on the land of a stranger. B is entitled to a right of way, for agricultural purposes only, over A's adjoining land to the field sold.

(b) A, the owner of two fields, sells one to B, and retains the other. The field retained was at the date of the sale used for agricultural purposes only and is inaccessible except by passing over the field sold to B. A is entitled to a right of way, for agricultural purposes only, over B's field to the field retained.

(c) A sells B a house with windows overlooking A's land which A retains. The light which passes over A's land to the windows is necessary for enjoying the house as it was enjoyed when the sale took effect. B is entitled to the light, and A cannot afterwards obstruct it by building on his land.

(d) A sells B a house with windows overlooking A's land. The light passing over A's land to the windows is necessary for enjoying the house as it was enjoyed when the sale took effect. Afterwards A sells the land to C. Here C cannot obstruct the light by building on the land, for he takes it subject to the burdens to which it was subject in A's lands.

(e) A is the owner of a house and adjoining land. The house has windows overlooking the land. A simultaneously sells the house to B and the land to C. The light passing over the land is necessary for enjoying the house as it was enjoyed when the sale took effect. Here A impliedly grants B a right to the light, and C takes the land subject to the restriction that he may not build so as to obstruct such light.

(f) A is the owner of a house and adjoining land. The house has windows overlooking the land. A, retaining the house, sells the land to B, without expressly reserving any easement. The light passing over the land is necessary for enjoying the house as it was enjoyed when the sale took effect. A is entitled to the light, and B cannot build on the land so as to obstruct such light.

(g) A, the owner of a house, sells B a factory built on adjoining land. B is entitled, as against A, to pollute the air, when necessary, with smoke and vapours from the factory.

(h) A, the owner of two adjoining houses, Y and Z, sells Y to B, and retains Z. B is entitled to the benefit of all the gutters and drains common to the two houses and necessary for enjoying Y as it was enjoyed when the sale took effect, and A is entitled to the benefit of all the gutters and drains common to the two houses and necessary for enjoying Z as it was enjoyed when the sale took effect.

(i) A, the owner of two adjoining buildings, sells one to B, retaining the other. B is entitled to a right to lateral support from A's building, and A is entitled to a right to lateral support from B's building.

(j) A, the owner of two adjoining buildings, sells one to B and the other to C. C is entitled to lateral support from B's building, and B is entitled to lateral support from C's building.

(k) A grants lands to B for the purpose of building a house thereon. B is entitled to such amount of lateral and subjacent support from A's land as is necessary for the safety of the house.

(l) Under the Land Acquisition Regulation, 1894, a Railway Company compulsorily acquires a portion of B's land for the purpose of making a siding. The Company is entitled to such amount of lateral support from B's adjoining land as is essential for the safety of the siding.

(m) Owing to the partition of joint property, A becomes the owner of an upper room in a building, and B becomes the owner of the portion of the building immediately beneath it, A is entitled to such amount of vertical support from B's portion as is essential for the safety of the upper room.

(n) A lets a house and grounds to B for a particular business. B has no access to them other than by crossing A's land. B is entitled to a right of way over that land suitable to the business to be carried on by B in the house and grounds.

Direction of way of necessity.

14. When a right to a way of necessity is created under section 13, the transferor, the legal representative of the testator, or the owner of the share over which the right is exercised, as the case may be, is entitled to set out the way; but it must be reasonably convenient for the dominant owner.

When the person so entitled to set out the way refuses or neglects to do so, the dominant owner may set it out.

Acquisition by prescription.

15. Where the access and use of light or air, to and for any building have been peaceably enjoyed therewith, as an easement, without interruption, and for twenty years, and where support from one person's land, or things affixed thereto, has been peaceably received by another person's land subjected to artificial pressure, or by things affixed thereto, as an easement, without interruption, and for twenty years, and where a right of way or any other easement has been peaceably and openly enjoyed by any person claiming title thereto, as an easement, and as of right, without interruption, and for twenty years, the right to such access and use of light or air, support or other easement shall be absolute.

Each of the said periods of twenty years shall be taken to be a period ending within two years next before the institution of the suit wherein the claim to which such period relates is contested.

Explanation I.—Nothing is an enjoyment within the meaning of this section when it has been had in pursuance of an agreement with the owner or occupier of the property over which the right is claimed, and it is apparent from the agreement that such right has not been granted as an easemant, or, if granted as an easement, that it has been granted for a limited period, or subject to a condition on the fulfilment of which it is to cease.

Explanation II.—Nothing is an interruption within the meaning of this section, unless where there is an actual cessation of the enjoyment by reason of an obstruction by the act of some person other than the claimant, and unless such obstruction is submitted to or acquiesced in for one year after the claimant has notice thereof and of the person making or authorizing the same to be made.

Explanation III.—Suspension of enjoyment in pursuance of a contract between the dominant and servient owners is not an interruption within the meaning of this section.

Explanation IV.—In the case of an easement to pollute water, the said period of twenty years begins when the pollution first prejudices perceptibly the servient heritage.

When the property over which a right is claimed under this section belongs to Government, this section shall be read as if for the words "twenty years" the words "sixty years" were substituted.

Illustrations.

(a) A suit is brought in 1883 for obstructing a right of way. The defendant admits the obstruction, but denies the right of way. The plaintiff proves that the right was peaceably and openly enjoyed by him claiming title thereto as an easement and as of right, without interruption, from 1st January, 1862, to 1st January, 1882. The plaintiff is entitled to judgment.

(b) In a like suit, the plaintiff shows that the right was peaceably and openly enjoyed by him for twenty years. The defendant proves that for a year of that time the plaintiff was entitled to possession of the servient heritage as lessee thereof and enjoyed the right as such lessee. The suit shall be dismissed, for the right of way has not been enjoyed "as an easement" for twenty years.

(c) In a like suit, the plaintiff shows that the right was peaceably and openly enjoyed by him for twenty years. The defendant proves that the plaintiff on one occasion during the twenty years had admitted that the user was not of right and asked his leave to enjoy the right. The suit shall be dismissed, for the right of way has not been enjoyed "as of right" for twenty years.

Exclusion in favour of reversioner of servient heritage.

16. Provided that, when any land upon, over or from which any easement has been enjoyed or derived has been held under or by virtue of any interest for life or any term of years exceeding three years from the granting thereof, the time of the enjoyment of such easement during the continuance of such interest or term shall be excluded in the computation of the said last-mentioned period of twenty years, in case the claim is, within three years next after the determination of such interest or term, resisted by the person entitled, on such determination, to the said land.

Illustrations.

A sues for a declaration that he is entitled to a right of way over B's land. A proves that he has enjoyed the right for twenty-five years, but B shows that during ten of these years C had a life-interest in the land, that on C's death B became entitled to the land, and that within two years after C's death he contested A's claim to the right. The suit must be dismissed, as A, with reference to the provisions of this section, has only proved enjoyment for fifteen years.

Rights which cannot be acquired by prescription.

17. Easements acquired under section 15 are said to be acquired by prescription, and are called prescriptive rights.

None of the following rights can be so acquired:—

(a) a right which would tend to the total destruction of the subject of the right, or the property on which, if the acquisition were made, liability would be imposed;

(b) a right to the free passage of light or air to an open space of ground;

(c) a right to surface-water not flowing in a stream and not permanently collected in a pool, tank or otherwise;

(d) a right to underground water not passing in a defined channel.

Customary easements.

18. An easement may be acquired in virtue of a local custom. Such easements are called customary easements.

Illustrations.

(a) By the custom of a certain village, every cultivator of village land is entitled, as such, to graze his cattle on the common pasture. A, having become the tenant of a plot of uncultivated land in the village, breaks up and cultivates that plot. He thereby acquires an easement to graze his cattle in accordance with the custom.

(b) By the custom of a certain town, no owner or occupier of a house can open a new window therein so as substantially to invade his neighbour's privacy. A builds a house in the town near B's house. A thereupon acquires an easement that B shall not open new windows in his house so as to command a view of the portions of A's house which are ordinarily excluded from observation, and B acquires a like easement with respect to A's house.

Transfer of dominant heritage passes easement.

19. Where the dominant heritage is transferred or devolves, by act of parties or by operation of law, the transfer or devolution shall, unless a contrary intention appears, be deemed to pass the easement to the person in whose favour the transfer or devolution takes place.

Illustration.

A has certain land to which a right of way is annexed. A lets the land to B for twenty years. The right of way vests in B and his legal representative so long as the lease continues.

CHAPTER III.

THE INCIDENTS OF EASEMENTS.

Rules controlled by contract or title.

20. The rules contained in this chapter are controlled by any contract between the dominant and servient owners relating to the servient heritage, and by the provisions of the instrument or decree, if any, by which the easement referred to was imposed.

Incidents of customary easements.

And when any incident of any customary easement is inconsistent with such rules, nothing in this chapter shall affect such incident.

Bar to use unconnected with enjoyment.

21. An easement must not be used for any purpose not connected with the enjoyment of the dominant heritage.

Illustrations.

(a) A, as owner of a farm Y has a right of way over B's land to Y. Lying beyond Y, A has another farm Z, the beneficial enjoyment of which is not necessary for the beneficial enjoyment of Y. He must not use the easement for the purpose of passing to and from Z.

(b) A, as owner of a certain house, has a right of way to and from it. For the purpose of passing to and from the house, the right may be used, not only by A, but by the members of his family, his guests, lodgers, servants, workmen, visitors and customers; for this is a purpose connected with the enjoyment of the dominant heritage. So, if A lets the house, he may use the right of way for the purpose of collecting the rent, and seeing that the house is kept in repair.

Exercise of easement.

Confinement of exercise of easement.

22. The dominant owner must exercise his right in the mode which is least onerous to the servient owner, and when the exercise of an easement can without detriment to the dominant owner be confined to a determinate part of the servient heritage, such exercise shall, at the request of the servient owner, be so confined.

Illustrations.

(a) A has a right of way over B's fields; A must enter the way at either end, and not at any intermediate point.

(b) A has a right annexed to his house to cut thatching grass in the B's swamp. A, when exercising his easement, must cut the grass so that the plants may not be destroyed.

Right to alter mode of enjoyment.

23. Subject to the provisions of section 22, the dominant owner may, from time to time, alter the mode and place of enjoying the easement, provided that he does not thereby impose any additional burden on the servient heritage.

Exception.—The dominant owner of a right of way cannot vary his line of passage at pleasure, even though he does not thereby impose any additional burden on the servient heritage.

Illustrations.

(a) A, the owner of a saw-mill, has a right to a flow of water sufficient to work the mill. He may convert the saw-mill into a corn mill, provided that it can be worked by the same amount of water.

(b) A has a right to discharge on B's land the rain-water from the eaves of A's house. This does not entitle A to advance his eaves if by so doing, he imposes a greater burden on B's land.

(c) A, as the owner of a paper-mill, acquires a right to pollute a stream by pouring in the refuse liquor produced by making in the mill paper from rags. He may pollute the stream by pouring in similar liquor produced by making in the mill paper by a new process from bamboos, provided that he does not substantially increase the amount, or injuriously change the nature, of the pollution.

(d) A, a riparian owner, acquires as against the lower riparian owners, a prescriptive right to pollute a stream by throwing sawdust into it. This does not entitle A to pollute the stream by discharging into it poisonous liquor.

Right to do acts to secure enjoyment.

24. The dominant owner is entitled, as against the servient owner, to do all acts necessary to secure the full enjoyment of the easement; but such acts must be done at such time and in such manner as, without detriment to the dominant owner, to cause the servient owner as little inconvenience as possible; and the dominant owner must repair, as far as practicable, the damage (if any) caused by the act to the servient heritage.

Accessory rights.

Illustrations.

(a) A has an easement to lay pipes in B's land to convey water to A's cistern. A may enter and dig the land in order to mend the pipes, but he must restore the surface to its original state.

(b) A has an easement of a drain through B's land. The sewer with which the drain communicates is altered. A may enter upon B's land and alter the drain, to adapt it to the new sewer, provided that he does not thereby impose any additional burden on B's land.

(c) A, as owner of a certain house, has a right of way over B's land. The way is out of repair, or a tree is blown down and falls across it. A may enter on B's land and repair the way or remove the tree from it.

(d) A, as owner of a certain field, has a right of way over B's land. B renders the way impassable. A may deviate from the way and pass over the adjoining land of B, provided that the deviation is reasonable.

(e) A, as owner of a certain house, has a right of way over B's field. A may remove rocks to make the way.

(f) A has an easement of support from B's wall. The wall gives way. A may enter upon B's land and repair the wall.

(g) A has an easement to have his land flooded by means of a dam in B's stream. The dam is half swept away by an inundation. A may enter upon B's land and repair the dam.

Liability for expenses necessary for preservation of easement.

25. The expenses incurred in constructing works or making repairs, or doing any other act necessary for the use or preservation of an easement, must be defrayed by the dominant owner.

Liability for damage from want of repair.

26. Where an easement is enjoyed by means of an artificial work, the dominant owner is liable to make compensation for any damage to the servient heritage arising from the want of repair of such work.

27. The servient owner is not bound to do anything for the benefit of the dominant heritage, and he is entitled, as against the dominant owner, to use the servient heritage in any way consistent with the enjoyment of the easement; but he must not do any act tending to restrict the easement or to render its exercise less convenient.

Illustrations.

(a) A, as owner of a house, has a right to lead water and send sewage through B's land. B is not bound as servient owner to clear the watercourse or scour the sewer.

(b) A grants a right of way through his land to B as owner of a field. A may feed his cattle on grass growing on the way, provided that B's right of way is not thereby obstructed; but he must not build a wall at the end of his land so as to prevent B from going beyond it, nor must he narrow the way so as to render the exercise of the right less easy than it was at the date of the grant.

(c) A, in respect of his house, is entitled to an easement of support from B's wall. B is not bound as servient owner to keep the wall standing and in repair. But he must not pull down or weaken the wall so as to make it incapable of rendering the necessary support.

(d) A, in respect of his mill, is entitled to a watercourse through B's land. B must not drive stakes so as to obstruct the watercourse.

(e) A, in respect of his house, is entitled to a certain quantity of light passing over B's land. B must not plant trees so as to obstruct the passage to A's windows of that quantity of light.

Extent of easements.

28. With respect to the extent of easements and the mode of their enjoyment, the following provisions shall take effect:—

Easement of necessity.

An easement of necessity is co-extensive with the necessity as it existed when the easement was imposed.

Other easements.

The extent of any other easement and the mode of its enjoyment must be fixed with reference to the probable intention of the parties, and the purpose for which the right was imposed or acquired.

In the absence of evidence as to such intention and purpose—

Right of way.

(a) a right of way of any one kind does not include a right of way of any other kind:

Right to light or air acquired by grant.

(b) the extent of a right to the passage of light or air to a certain window, door or other opening, imposed by a testamentary or non-testamentary instrument, is the quantity of light or air that entered the opening at the time the testator died or the non-testamentary instrument was made:

Prescriptive right to light or air.

(c) the extent of a prescriptive right to the passage of light or air to a certain window, door or other opening, is that quantity of light or air which was reasonably sufficient, coming through that opening, for the convenient and comfortable use and enjoyment of the house and its beneficial employment as it was enjoyed at the commencement of the prescriptive period:

Prescriptive right to pollute air and water.

(d) the extent of a prescriptive right to pollute air or water is the extent of the pollution at the commencement of the period of user on completion of which the right arose: and

(e) the extent of every other prescriptive right and mode of its enjoyment must be determined by the accustomed user of the right.

29. The dominant owner cannot, by merely altering or adding to the dominant heritage, substantially increase an easement. Increase of easement.

Where an easement has been granted or bequeathed so that its extent shall be proportionate to the extent of the dominant heritage, if the dominant heritage is increased by alluvion, the easement is proportionately increased, and if the dominant heritage is diminished by diluvion, the easement is proportionately diminished.

Save as aforesaid, no easement is affected by any change in the extent of the dominant or the servient heritage.

Illustrations.

(a) A, the owner of a mill, has acquired a prescriptive right to divert to his mill part of the water of a stream. A alters the machinery of his mill. He cannot thereby increase his right to divert water.

(b) A has acquired an easement to pollute a stream by carrying on a manufacture on its banks by which a certain quantity of foul matter is discharged into it. A extends his works and thereby increases the quantity discharged. He is responsible to the lower riparian owners for injury done by such increase.

(c) A, as the owner of a farm, has a right to take, for the purpose of manuring his farm, leaves which have fallen from the trees on B's land. A buys a field and unites it to his farm. A is not thereby entitled to take leaves to manure this field.

30. Where a dominant heritage is divided between two or more persons, the easement becomes annexed to each of the shares, but not so as to increase substantially the burden of the servient heritage: provided that such annexation is consistent with the terms of the instrument, decree or revenue proceeding (if any) under which the division was made, and, in the case of prescriptive rights, with the user during the prescriptive period. Partition of dominant heritage.

Illustrations.

(a) A house to which a right of way by a particular path is annexed, is divided into two parts, one of which is granted to A, the other to B. Each is entitled, in respect of his part, to a right of way by the same path.

(b) A house to which is annexed the right of drawing water from a well to the extent of fifty buckets a day is divided into two distinct heritages, one of which is granted to A, the other to B. A and B are each entitled, in respect of his heritage to draw from the well fifty buckets a day; but the amount drawn by both must not exceed fifty buckets a day.

(c) A, having in respect of his house an easement of light divides the house into three distinct heritages. Each of these continues to have the right to have its windows unobstructed.

31. In the case of excessive user of an easement the servient owner may, without prejudice to any other remedies to which he may be entitled, obstruct the user, but only on the servient heritage: provided that such user cannot be obstructed when the obstruction would interfere with the lawful enjoyment of the easement. Obstruction in case of excessive user.

Illustration.

A, having a right to the free passage over B's land of light to four windows six feet by four, increases their size and number. It is impossible to obstruct the passage of light to the new windows without also obstructing the passage of light to the ancient windows. B cannot obstruct the excessive user.

CHAPTER IV.

THE DISTURBANCE OF EASEMENTS.

Right to enjoyment without disturbance.

32. The owner or occupier of the dominant heritage is entitled to enjoy the easement without disturbance by any other person.

Illustration.

A, as owner of a house, has a right of way over B's land. C unlawfully enters on B's land, and obstructs A in his right of way. A may sue C for compensation, not for the entry, but for the obstruction.

Suit for disturbance of easement.

33. The owner of any interest in the dominant heritage, or the occupier of such heritage, may institute a suit for compensation for the disturbance of the easement or of any right accessory thereto: provided that the disturbance has actually caused substantial damage to the plaintiff.

Explanation I.—The doing of any act likely to injure the plaintiff by affecting the evidence of the easement, or by materially diminishing the value of the dominant heritage, is substantial damage within the meaning of this section and section 34.

Explanation II.—Where the easement disturbed is a right to the free passage of light passing to the openings in a house, no damage is substantial within the meaning of this section, unless it falls within the first explanation, or interferes materially with the physical comfort of the plaintiff, or prevents him from carrying on the business, if any, which was carried on at the commencement of the prescriptive period in the dominant heritage as beneficially as he had done previous to instituting the suit.

Explanation III.—Where the easement disturbed is a right to the free passage of air to the openings in a house, damage is substantial within the meaning of this section if it interferes materially with the physical comfort of the plaintiff, though it is not injurious to his health.

Illustrations.

(a) A places a permanent obstruction in a path over which B, as tenant of C's house has a right of way. This is substantial damage to C, for it may affect the evidence of his reversionary right to the easement.

(b) A, as owner of a house, has a right to walk along one side of B's house. B builds a verandah overhanging the way about 10 feet from the ground, and so as not to occasion any inconvenience to foot-passengers using the way. This is not substantial damage to A.

When cause of action arises for removal of support.

34. The removal of the means of support to which a dominant owner is entitled does not give rise to a right to recover compensation, unless and until substantial damage is actually sustained.

Injunction to restrain disturbance.

35. Subject to the provisions of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, sections 52 to 57 (both inclusive), an injunction may be granted to restrain the disturbance of an easement—

(a) if the easement is actually disturbed,—when compensation for such disturbance might be recovered under this chapter:

(b) if the disturbance is only threatened or intended,—when the act threatened or intended must necessarily, if performed, disturb the easement.

Abatement of obstruction of easement.

36. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 24, the dominant owner cannot himself abate a wrongful obstruction of an easement.

CHAPTER V.

THE EXTINCTION, SUSPENSION AND REVIVAL OF EASEMENTS.

Extinction by dissolution of right of servient owner.

37. When, from a cause which preceded the imposition of an easement, the person by whom it was imposed ceases to have any right in the servient heritage, the easement is extinguished.

Exception.—Nothing in this section applies to an easement lawfully imposed by a mortgagor in accordance with section 10.

Illustrations.

(a) A transfers Sultanpur to B on condition that he does not marry C. B imposes an easement on Sultanpur. Then B marries C. B's interest in Sultanpur ends, and with it the easement is extinguished.

(b) A, in 1860, lets Sultanpur to B for thirty years from the date of the lease. B, in 1861, imposes an easement on the land in favour of C, who enjoys the easement peaceably and openly as an easement without interruption for twenty-nine years. B's interest in Sultanpur then ends, and with it C's easement.

(c) A and B, tenants of C, have permanent transferable interests in their respective holdings. A imposes on his holding an easement to draw water from a tank for the purpose of irrigating B's land. B enjoys the easement for twenty years. Then A's rent falls into arrear and his interest is sold. B's easement is extinguished.

(d) A mortgages Sultanpur to B, and lawfully imposes an easement on the land in favour of C in accordance with the provisions of section 10. The land is sold to D in satisfaction of the mortgage-debt. The easement is not thereby extinguished.

Extinction by release.

38. An easement is extinguished when the dominant owner releases it, expressly or impliedly, to the servient owner.

Such release can be made only in the circumstances and to the extent in and to which the dominant owner can alienate the dominant heritage.

An easement may be released as to part only of the servient heritage.

Explanation I.—An easement is impliedly released—

(a) where the dominant owner expressly authorizes an act of a permanent nature to be done on the servient heritage, the necessary consequence of which is to prevent his future enjoyment of the easement, and such act is done in pursuance of such authority;

(b) where any permanent alteration is made in the dominant heritage of such a nature as to show that the dominant owner intended to cease to enjoy the easement in future.

Explanation II.—Mere non-user of an easement is not an implied release within the meaning of this section.

Illustrations.

(a) A, B and C are co-owners of a house to which an easement is annexed. A, without the consent of B and C, releases the easement. This release is effectual only as against A and his legal representative.

(b) A grants B an easement over A's land for the beneficial enjoyment of his house. B assigns the house to C, B then purports to release the easement. The release is ineffectual.

(c) A, having the right to discharge his eaves droppings into B's yard, expressly authorizes B to build over this yard to a height which will interfere with the discharge. B builds accordingly. A's easement is extinguished to the extent of the interference.

(d) A, having an easement of light to a window, builds up that window with bricks and mortar so as to manifest an intention to abandon the easement permanently. The easement is impliedly released.

(e) A, having a projecting roof by means of which he enjoys an easement to discharge eaves droppings on B's land, permanently alters the roof so as to direct the rain-water into a different channel, and discharge it on C's land. The easement is impliedly released.

Extinction by revocation.

39. An easement is extinguished when the servient owner, in exercise of a power reserved in this behalf, revokes the easement.

Extinction on expiration of limited period or happening of dissolving condition.

40. An easement is extinguished where it has been imposed for a limited period, or acquired on condition that it shall become void on the performance or non-performance of a specified act, and the period expires or the condition is fulfilled.

Extinction on termination of necessity.

41. An easement of necessity is extinguished when the necessity comes to an end.

Illustrations.

A grants B a field inaccessible except by passing over A's adjoining land. B afterwards purchases a part of that land over which he can pass to his field. The right of way over A's land which B had acquired is extinguished.

Extinction of useless easement.

42. An easement is extinguished when it becomes incapable of being at any time and under any circumstances beneficial to the dominant owner.

Extinction by permanent change in dominant heritage.

43. Where, by any permanent change in the dominant heritage, the burden on the servient heritage is materially increased and cannot be reduced by the servient owner without interfering with the lawful enjoyment of the easement, the easement is extinguished, unless—

(a) it was intended for the beneficial enjoyment of the dominant heritage, to whatever extent the easement should be used; or

(b) the injury caused to the servient owner by the change is so slight that no reasonable person would complain of it; or

(c) the easement is an easement of necessity.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to apply to an easement entitling the dominant owner to support of the dominant heritage.

Extinction on permanent alterration of servient heritage by superior force.

44. An easement is extinguished where the servient heritage is by superior force so permanently altered that the dominant owner can no longer enjoy such easement:

Provided that, where a way of necessity is destroyed by superior force, the dominant owner has a right to another way over the servient heritage; and the provisions of section 14 apply to such way.

Illustrations.

(a) A grants to B, as the owner of a certain house, a right to fish in a river running through A's land. The river changes its course permanently and runs through C's land. B's easement is extinguished.

(b) Access to a path over which A has a right of way is permanently cut off by an earthquake. A's right is extinguished.

Extinction by destruction of either heritage.

45. An easement is extinguished when either the dominant or the servient heritage is completely destroyed.

Illustration.

A, has a right of way over a strip of land between a cliff and the sea, which forms the whole servient heritage. The strip is completely submerged and washed away. The easement is extinguished.

Extinction by unity of ownership.

46. An easement is extinguished when the same person becomes entitled to the absolute ownership of the whole of the dominant and servient heritages.

Illustrations.

(a) A, as the owner of a house, has a right of way over B's field. A mortgages his house, and B mortgages his field to C. Then C forecloses both mortgages and becomes thereby absolute owner of both house and field. The right of way is extinguished.

(b) The dominant owner acquires only part of the servient heritage: the easement is not extinguished, except in the case illustrated in section 41.

(c) The servient owner acquires the dominant heritage in connection with a third person: the easement is not extinguished.

(d) The separate owners of two separate dominant heritages jointly acquire the heritage which is servient to the two separate heritages: the easements are not extinguished.

(e) The joint owners of the dominant heritage jointly acquire the servient heritage: the easement is extinguished.

(f) A single right of way exists over two servient heritages for the beneficial enjoyment of a single dominant heritage. The dominant owner acquires one only of the servient heritages. The easement is not extinguished.

(g) A has a right of way over B's road. B dedicates the road to the public. A's right of way is not extinguished.

Extinction by non-enjoyment.

47. A continuous easement is extinguished when it totally ceases to be enjoyed as such for an unbroken period of twenty years.

A discontinuous easement is extinguished when, for a like period, it has not been enjoyed as such.

Such period shall be reckoned, in the case of a continuous easement, from the day on which its enjoyment was obstructed by the servient owner, or rendered impossible by the dominant owner; and, in the case of a discontinuous easement, from the day on which it was last enjoyed by any person as dominant owner:

Provided that if, in the case of a discontinuous easement, the dominant owner, within such period, registers, under the Mysore Registration Regulation, 1903, a declaration of his intention to retain such easement, it shall not be extinguished until a period of twenty years has elapsed from the date of the registration.

Where an easement can be legally enjoyed only at a certain place, or at certain times, or between certain hours, or for a particular purpose, its enjoyment during the said period at another place, or at other times, or between other hours, or for another purpose, does not prevent its extinction under this section.

The circumstance that, during the said period, no one was in possession of the servient heritage, or that the easement could not be enjoyed, or that a right accessory thereto was enjoyed, or that the dominant owner was not aware of its existence, or that he enjoyed it in ignorance of his right to do so, does not prevent its extinction under this section.

An easement is not extinguished under this section—

(a) where the cessation is in pursuance of a contract between the dominant and servient owners;

(b) where the dominant heritage is held in co-ownership, and one of the co-owners enjoys the easement within the said period; or

(c) where the easement is a necessary easement.

Where several heritages are respectively subject to rights of way for the benefit of a single heritage, and the ways are continuous, such rights shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be a single easement.

Illustration.

A has, as annexed to his house, rights of way from the high road thither over the heritages X and Z and the intervening heritage Y. Before the twenty years expire, A exercises his right of way over X. His rights of way over Y and Z are not extinguished.

Extinction of accessory rights.

48. When an easement is extinguished, the rights (if any) accessory thereto are also extinguished.

Illustration.

A has an easement to draw water from B's well. As accessory thereto, he has a right of way over B's land to and from the well. The easement to draw water is extinguished under section 47. The right of way is also extinguished.

Suspension of easement.

49. An easement is suspended when the dominant owner becomes entitled to possession of the servient heritage for a limited interest therein, or when the servient owner becomes entitled to possession of the dominant heritage for a limited interest therein.

Servient owner not entitled to require continuance.

50. The servient owner has no right to require that an easement be continued; and, notwithstanding the provisions of section 26, he is not entitled to compensation for damage caused to the servient heritage in consequence of the extinguishment or suspension of the easement, if the dominant owner has given to the servient owner such notice as will enable him, without unreasonable expense, to protect the servient heritage from such damage.

Compensation for damage caused by extinguishment.

Where such notice has not been given, the servient owner is entitled to compensation for damage caused to the servient heritage in consequence of such extinguishment or suspension.

Illustration.

A, in exercise of an easement, diverts to his canal the water of B's stream. The diversion continues for many years, and during that time the bed of the stream partly fills up. A then abandons his easement, and restores the stream to its ancient course. B's land is consequently flooded. B sues A for compensation for the damage caused by the flooding. It is proved that A gave B a month's notice of his intention to abandon the easement and that such notice was sufficient to enable B, without unreasonable expense, to have prevented the damage. The suit must be dismissed.

Revival of easements.

51. An easement extinguished under section 45 revives (a) when the destroyed heritage is, before twenty years have expired, restored by the deposit of alluvion; (b) when the destroyed heritage is a servient building and before twenty years have expired such building is rebuilt upon the same site; and (c) when the destroyed heritage is a dominant building and before twenty years have expired such building is rebuilt upon the same site and in such a manner as not to impose a greater burden on the servient heritage.

An easement extinguished under section 46 revives when the grant or bequest by which the unity of ownership was produced is set aside by the decree of a competent Court. A necessary easement extinguished under the same section revives when the unity of ownership ceases from any other cause.

A suspended easement revives if the cause of suspension is removed before the right is extinguished under section 47.

Illustrations.

A, as the absolute owner of field Y, has a right of way thither over B's field Z. A obtains from B a lease of Z for twenty years. The easement is suspended so long as A remains lessee of Z. But when A assigns the lease to C, or surrenders it to B, the right of way revives.

CHAPTER VI.

LICENSES.

"License" defined.

52. Where one person grants to another, or to a definite number of other persons, a right to do, or continue to do, in or upon the immovable property of the grantor, something which would, in the absence of such right be unlawful, and such right does not amount to an easement or an interest in the property, the right is called a license.

Who may grant license.

53. A license may be granted by any one in the circumstances and to the extent in and to which he may transfer his interests in the property affected by the license.

Grant may be express or implied.

54. The grant of a license may be express or implied from the conduct of the grantor, and an agreement which purports to create an easement, but is ineffectual for that purpose, may operate to create a license.

Accessory licenses annexed by law.

55. All licenses necessary for the enjoyment of any interest, or the exercise of any right, are implied in the constitution of such interest or right. Such licenses are called accessory licenses.

Illustration.

A sells the trees growing on his land to B. B is entitled to go on the land and take away the trees.

License when transferable.

56. Unless a different intention is expressed or necessarily implied, a license to attend a place of public entertainment may be transferred by the licensee; but, save as aforesaid, a license cannot be transferred by the licensee or exercised by his servants or agents.

Illustrations.

(a) A grants B a right to walk over A's field whenever he pleases. The right is not annexed to any immovable property of B. The right cannot be transferred.

(b) The Government grant B a license to erect and use temporary grain-sheds on Government land. In the absence of express provision to the contrary, B's servants may enter on the land for the purpose of erecting sheds, erect the same, deposit grain therein and remove grain therefrom.

Grantor's duty to disclose defects.

57. The grantor of a license is bound to disclose to the licensee any defect in the property affected by the license, likely to be dangerous to the person or property of the licensee, of which the grantor is, and the licensee is not, aware.

Grantor's duty not to render property unsafe.

58. The grantor of a license is bound not to do anything likely to render the property affected by the license dangerous to the person or property of the licensee.

Grantor's transferee not bound by license.

59. When the grantor of the license transfers the property affected thereby, the transferee is not as such bound by the license.

License when revocable.

60. A license may be revoked by the grantor, unless—

(a) it is coupled with a transfer of property and such transfer is in force:

(b) the licensee, acting upon the license, has executed a work of a permanent character and incurred expenses in the execution.

Revocation express or implied.

61. The revocation of a license may be express or implied.

Illustrations.

(a) A, the owner of a field, grants a license to B to use a path across it. A, with intent to revoke the license, locks a gate across the path. The license is revoked.

(b) A, the owner of a field, grants a license to B to stack hay on the field. A lets or sells the field to C. The license is revoked.

License when deemed revoked.

62. A license is deemed to be revoked—

(a) when, from a cause preceding the grant of it, the grantor ceases to have any interest in the property affected by the license:

(b) when the licensee releases it, expressly or impliedly, to the grantor or his representative:

(c) where it has been granted for a limited period, or acquired on condition that it shall become void on the performance or non-performance of a specified act, and the period expires or the condition is fulfilled:

(d) where the property affected by the license is destroyed or by superior force so permanently altered that the licensee can no longer exercise his right:

(e) where the licensee becomes entitled to the absolute ownership of the property affected by the license:

(f) where the license is granted for a specified purpose and the purpose is attained, or abandoned, or becomes impracticable:

(g) where the license is granted to the licensee as holding a particular office, employment or character, and such office, employment or character ceases to exist:

(h) where the license totally ceases to be used as such for an unbroken period of twenty years, and such cessation is not in pursuance of a contract between the grantor and the licensee:

(i) in the case of an accessory license when the interest or right to which it is accessory ceases to exist.

Licensee's rights of revocation.

63. Where a license is revoked, the licensee is entitled to a reasonable time to leave the property affected thereby and to remove any goods which he has been allowed to place on such property.

Licensee's rights on eviction.

64. Where a license has been granted for a consideration, and the licensee, without any fault of his own, is evicted by the grantor before he has fully enjoyed, under the license, the right for which he contracted, he is entitled to recover compensation from the grantor.

In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 12A of the Mysore Legislative Council Regulation, 1907, as amended by Regulation VI of 1919, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore are pleased to make the following rules for the discussion of matters of general public interest in the Legislative Council.

By Order,

C. S. BALASUNDARAM IYER,

Chief Secretary to Government.

RULES FOR THE DISCUSSION OF MATTERS OF GENERAL PUBLIC INTEREST.

Matters open to discussion.

1. Any matter of general public interest may be discussed in Council subject to the following conditions and restrictions.

2. No such discussion shall be permitted in regard to any of the following subjects, namely:—

(b) any matter under adjudication by a court of law having jurisdiction in any part of the Mysore State.

Resolutions.

3. Subject to the restrictions contained in rule 2, any member may move a resolution relating to a matter of general public interest.

Provided that no resolution shall be moved which does not comply with the following conditions, namely:—

(a) It shall be in the form of a specific recommendation addressed to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja;

(b) It shall be clearly and precisely expressed and shall raise a definite issue;

(c) It shall not contain arguments, inferences, ironical expressions or defamatory statements nor shall it refer to the conduct or character of persons except in their official or public capacity.

4. No member shall ordinarily be allowed to move more than one resolution at any session of the Council, and not more than twelve resolutions in all shall be moved at any session of the Council.

5. A member, who wishes to move a resolution, shall give notice in writing to the Secretary, at least fifteen clear days before the meeting of the Council at which he desires to move the same and shall together with the notice submit a copy of the resolution which he wishes to move.

Provided that the President may allow a resolution to be moved with shorter notice than fifteen days, and may, in any case, require longer notice or may extend the time for moving the resolution.

6. (1) The Secretary shall submit every resolution of which notice has been given to him in accordance with rule 5 to the President, who may either admit it or, when any resolution is not framed in accordance with rule 4, cause it to be returned to the member concerned for the purpose of amendment;

(2) If the member does not, within such time as the President may fix in this behalf, resubmit the resolution duly amended, the resolution shall be deemed to have been withdrawn.

7. The President may disallow any resolution or part of a resolution without giving any reason therefor other than that in his opinion it cannot be moved consistently with the public interests.

8. (1) No discussion in Council shall be permitted in respect of any order of the President under rule 6 or rule 7.

(2) A resolution that has been disallowed shall not be entered in the proceedings of the Council.

9. Resolutions admitted by the President shall be entered in the statement of business for the yda in the order in which they are received by the Secretary.

Provided that the President may give priority to any resolution which he may consider to be of urgent public interest or postpone the moving of any resolution.

Discussion of resolutions.

10. No resolution shall be taken into consideration by the Council unless it is seconded.

11. The discussion of resolutions shall take place after all the other business of the day has been concluded.

12. (1) After the mover of a resolution has spoken, other members may speak to the motion in such order as the President may direct, and thereafter the mover may speak once by way of reply.

(2) No member other than the mover and the Member of His Highness' Council in charge of the department concerned shall speak more than once to any motion except, with the permission of the President, for the purpose of making an explanation.

13. No speech, except with the permission of the President, shall exceed fifteen minutes in duration.

Provided that the mover of a resolution, when moving the same, and the Member of His Highness' Council in charge of the department concerned may speak for thirty minutes.

14. (1) Every member shall speak from his place, shall rise when he speaks, and shall address the chair.

(2) At any time, if the President rises, any member speaking shall immediately resume his seat.

15. Any member may send his speech to the Secretary not less than two clear days before the day fixed for the discussion of a resolution, with as many copies as there are members, and the Secretary shall cause one of such copies to be supplied to every member.

16. The discussion of a resolution shall be limited to the subject of the resolution and shall not extend to any matter as to which a resolution may not be moved.

17. When a resolution is under discussion any member may, subject to all the conditions and restrictions relating to the resolutions specified in rules 2 and 3, move an amendment to such resolution.

Provided that an amendment may not be moved which has merely the effect of a negative vote.

Provided further that no amendment shall be taken into consideration by the Council unless it is seconded.

18. Every amendment proposed shall be handed in writing to the Secretary.

19. A member who has moved a resolution or an amendment of a resolution may withdraw the same unless some member desires that it be put to the vote.

20. When, in the opinion of the President, a resolution and any amendment thereto have been sufficiently discussed, he may close the discussion by calling upon the mover to reply and the Member of His Highness' Council in charge of the department concerned to submit any final observations which he may wish to make.

Provided that the President may in all cases address the Council before putting the question to the vote.

21. (1) When an amendment to any resolution is moved, or when two or more such amendments are moved, the President shall, before taking the sense of the Council thereon, state or read to the Council the terms of the original motion and of the amendment or amendments proposed.

(2) It shall be in the discretion of the President to put first to the vote either the original motion or any of the amendments which may have been brought forward.

22. If any resolution involves many points, the President at his discretion may divide it, so that each point may be determined separately.

23. (1) Every question shall be resolved in the affirmative or in the negative according to the majority of votes.

(2) Votes may be taken by voices or by division and shall be taken by division if any member so desires.

(3) The President shall determine the method of taking votes by division.

General.

24. The President may assign such time as, with due regard to the public interest, he may consider reasonable for the discussion of resolutions or of any particular resolution; every resolution which shall not have been put to the vote within the time so assigned shall be considered to have been withdrawn.

25. Every resolution, if carried, shall have effect only as a recommendation to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja.

26. When a question has been discussed at a meeting of the Council, or when a resolution has been disallowed under rule 7 or withdrawn under rule 19, no resolution or amendment raising substantially the same question shall be moved within one year.

27. (1) The President shall preserve order and all points of order shall be decided by him.

(2) No discussion on any point of order shall be allowed unless the President shall think fit to take the opinion of the Council thereon.

(3) Any member may, at any time, submit a point of order to the decision of the President.

(4) The President shall have all powers necessary for the purpose of enforcing his decisions.

28. The President, for sufficient reason, may suspend any of the foregoing rules.

Legislative Measures and Rules thereunder.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 64—L. C., dated 20th August 1919.

Under Rule 40 of the Rules for the conduct of business of the Mysore Legislative Council, the following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill further to amend the Mysore Excise Regulation, 1901, is published for general information.

By Order,
P. MAHADEVAYYA,
Secretary, Mysore Legislative Council.

Report of the Select Committee on the Bill further to amend the Mysore Excise Regulation, 1901.

We, the members * of the Select Committee appointed to consider the above Bill, have the honour to report that the Bill was carefully considered by us and that it requires no change, with the exception of the few alterations noted below :—

We consider that the amendment suggested in clause 1 (1) is unnecessary and may be omitted, as no such provision exists in the Madras Abkari Act on which most of the amendments proposed are based.

Instead of the amendment to the first paragraph of section 56 suggested in clause 15 of the Bill, we propose to adopt the wording of the corresponding section of the Madras Act by substituting for the words "a person in the employ of such holder" the words "being in the employ of such holder and acting on his behalf".

We recommend that the bill be passed with the alterations suggested above and that it need not be published in the Gazette.
